Christian Science Churches

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Church of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 30.

The Golden Text will be, "The Lord God will help me; therefore shall I not be confounded: therefore have I set my face like a flint, and I know that I shall not be ashamed" (Isaiah 50: 7).

Among the citations which will comprise the Lesson-Sermon will be the following from the Bible: "Thou art my hiding place; thou shalt preserve me from trouble; thou shalt compass me about with songs of deliverance" (Ps. 32:7).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The power of God brings deliverance to the captive. No power can withstand Love . . . What- ever enslaves man is opposed to the divine government. Truth makes man free" (p. 224, 225).

Ft. Douglas Officer Praises Maj. Harmon

Chaplain (Major) Daniel Stevens, assistant to the director in the personnel division of the Ninth Service Command, has sent Chaplain (Major) Wm. H. Andrew, Post Chaplain at Camp Abbot to Camp Adair for a ten day period to study and observe the methods of administration used by Chaplain (Major) Harmon.

Chaplain Stevens of the Ninth Service Command highly praised Major Harmon for his efficient manner of handling the affairs of the chaplains' branch at Camp Adair.

Chaplain Andrew was born in Lampasas, Texas, and entered the Army as a buck private in World War I. He was placed on the Army Chaplain's Reserve list as a first lieutenant on March 5, 1929, became a captain in 1935, and a major in 1940.

He was called to active duty on April 1 of this year. The chaplain has a son eighteen years of age,

Wm. Andrew Jr., who will enter the Army as an A.S.T.P. student in a medical school.

Education has played an important role in Chaplain Andrew's life. He received his A.B. degree from Baylor University, his Th. M. from the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, and an Honorary D.D. from Howard Payne College. These schools are all located in the state of Texas.

Before entering the Army, the Major served Southern Baptist churches in Arkansas and Texas. His last pastorate was in Bryan, Texas, the home of Texas A & M. For the past several years, he has been an instructor of Boy Scouts for the National Rifle Association Junior Division.

Chaplain Andrew's hobbies are amateur photography, stamp collecting, and he also has an interest in Texas history. He claims that his great grandfather was scalped by the Indians at or near a portion of what is now Camp Hood, Texas.

Chaplain In Call; Choir Rehearsals

Chaplain Irvin L. Whetsell announces that he again desires to remind all soldiers who are interested in choir singing to come to the rehearsals at Chapel 1 each Tuesday evening at 7 P.M. The Chapel is located at the corner of D and 3rd street.

He reports that these meetings are for the purpose of rehearsing hymns to be used in the Sunday morning service.

"As before, I am extending a special invitation," said Chaplain Whetsell, "to members of the special troops because I was sent down here to represent them." He emphasized however that all soldiers are welcome.

JEWISH LAY LEADERS

In the absence of a Jewish Chaplain, the Post Chaplain with the approval of the Commanding Officer has designated the following men as lay leaders for Jewish Religious Services: T/4 George S. Brooks, ASTU 3900, Oregon State College, S Sgt. Mordecai E. Schwartz, Medical Section, SCU 1911, and Pfc. Harry L. Weitzman, Headquarters Company, SCU 1911.

Continued from Page 3) Service Command Unit and the divisions was furthered in the appreciation uttered by the two commanding generals who spoke.

Major General Gilbert R. Cook of the Timber Wolf division, who expressed fullest appreciation of the cooperation his command has received, especially in the providing of training facilities and the care of troops.

Brigadier General Dahlquist, who expressed his pleasure in being here, in behalf of the officers and men of his command. The cooperation and treatment, General Dahlquist said, has been excellent.

Old Rainbow Division To Be Remobilized

A new Rainbow Division will be mobilized on July 14, date of its historic stand against the Germans in the Battle of Champagne in 1918, it was revealed Tuesday in Washington.

During the World War General Douglas MacArthur commanded this famous division.

New Theatre Officer Promoted From Ranks

Lauds Projectionists For Their Fine Work

Lt. William F. Benson, who took over the job as theater officer when Lt. Maynard F. Grunder left Camp Adair, entered the Army as a buck private in May, 1941, and was commissioned as a second lieutenant in the AUS on April 14 of this year. His home is in Wichita, Kansas.

While in the Air Corps, he met his wife, former Riverside, California, girl. His profession before entering the Army was accounting which he says was a full time job and left no time for hobbies. His is the Camp Theater system:

"We have a very good theater staff. Lt. Grunder left an excellent organization. We hope to continue the improvement of the theater service; so Camp Adair may be even more proud of its motion picture personnel."

Lt. Benson claims that the chief projectionists to a great extent are responsible for successful operation of the War Department theaters. Those who are chief projectionists on the Post are Pvt. Kenzie Block at No. 1; Pvt. Dick Moorman at No. 2; Pvt. James Rodney at No. 3; Pfc. William Hamill at No. 4 and Pvt. Tom Goodyard at No. 5.

Former big league ball players now in the line-up of the Mather Field (Cal.) team are Sgt. Joe Marty, Chicago Cubs outfielder; Myril Hoag, N. Y. Yankees and Chicago White Sox gardener; and Tony Freitas who has pitched both in the major and minor leagues.

We're Seldom Wrong; Why Admit It Now?
 The Sentry last week took a peek into its crystal ball and chalked up a son to the credit of our new Red Cross Field Director and Mrs. William E. Grainger, Jr., who have no son.
 "Amazing thing, though," quoth Mr. Grainger, "we are infanticipating. I've ordered a daughter, however. But how the dickens could you know?"
 Elementary, Mr. Grainger. Nothing to it. Just the old Sentry sense you know. We're awfully sorry to disappoint you about the daughter. But seldom miss y'know.
 By more than a mile.

Portland's Victory Day

Representing Camp Adair, before cheering throngs of Portlanders who had gathered together last Wednesday to celebrate African Victory Day as proclaimed by Gov. Earl Snell, were two military bands, representing the divisions stationed here, and Sgt. Nick Sansonia, singing troubadour, and Sgt. Kenneth Woods, unicyclist.

Civilian groups mingled with the military . . . Army and Navy personnel, WAACS, WAVES, SPARS and MARINETTS, as well as auxiliary groups participating in the national war effort . . . the Veterans Guard Patrol, Women's Emergency Unit, OCD fire-fighters, as the city rose to the occasion of marking the tremendous Allied Nations victory over the Axis forces in the African theatre of war.

Excerpts of Winston Churchill's speech made that morning, were rebroadcast to the masses in Civic Stadium. The Kaiser shipyards sent another Liberty vessel down the ways . . . with Gail Page as sponsor. War Bonds were sold by the armful. Additional pleas for more blood plasma donations for Red Cross Blood Banks were made.

Portland itself was flag-bedecked, as this hub of the state's activity was turned into a stage for triumphant celebration. High school bands played . . . floats paraded . . . people marched. It was a great day for everyone there.

The spirit of a nation at war was evident, and could be summed up as Churchill spoke of the people of Britain . . . "It is a heavy heart that never rejoices, but our thank-givings, however fervent, must be brief. Heavier work lies ahead."

Former Army Officer Member of Red Cross

Wm. F. Mackintosh, commissioned as a second lieutenant in the first World War was recently assigned to the Timber Wolf Division Red Cross Staff, according to an announcement made by Mr. James G. Tucker, assistant field director of the American Red Cross.

Mackintosh came to the United States from Scotland at the age of 15. He is married and has a step-son twenty-four years of age. The step-son has two children and is an ensign in the Navy.

Prior to his employment with the Red Cross, Mr. Mackintosh was a salesman for the Andersen corporation.

Remember: Everything a soldier throws down—some soldier has to pick up.

"Walled In"

Camp Adair had its official dedication of the new flag pole Tuesday. Everybody turned out for it. That is, everybody except "Chubby," the SCU dog mascot. For some reason they wouldn't let him near it.

I imagine that this could be considered one of the major disappointments in little Chubby's life. After weeks of wistful dreaming of the tremendous part he was to play in the dedication of the flag pole, he ends up tied to a rope longer than a loan shark's memory and tighter than a pair of GI shorts.

This Is A Stinking Trick
