

New Adair Band Making Big Hit

Divisional Out-fit Features Novelty, Dance Combinations

The new divisional band, as adept at playing the marches of Sousa as the lilting ballads of Gershwin, is a combination of a Field Artillery band and an Engineer Battalion band, combined as a unit at Camp Adair. Contained within this musical aggregation is a 16-piece dance band, and a small dance combination, which specializes in Latin-American rhythms.

The 16-piece outfit plays for the Tuesday night informal hops at Club 2; the seven-piece band plays for the Latin-American dances on Thursday at Club 1. Aside from these "regular assignments," both bands enjoy widespread popularity when they appear at other musical affairs and dances throughout the cantonment.

The Field Artillery band, directed by W. O. Lorn Christensen, is under the baton of T/Sgt. Bill Rankin. The entire organization includes musicians who have been associated with the big-name bands in the country.

For example, Pfc. Irving Fisher, on sax, arranged for Tommy Reynolds and formerly played with Al Donahue. He has made several arrangements for the band. Sgt. Duane Gurnee, on tenor sax, was with Tommy Tucker as well as with broadcasting studios in Hollywood and with M-G-M. T/Sgt. Rankin was offered a contract by Artie Shaw.

Arrangers in Band

On guitar is Sgt. Sam Herman who played with Benny Goodman in San Francisco. On second trumpet is Pfc. Bob Conzine who played with Bill Baker in Tacoma.

Several arrangers play in the band. Cpl. Mose Dieffenbach, at the piano; Cpl. Clint Nordquist on bass, and Sgt. Bill Rhodenbaugh, on drums: all have made arrangements and the latter has two original tunes to his credit. The band also uses a dance book by Art Gunther.

Vocalist with the band is T/5 Bob Kirkpatrick, with a tenor-baritone range.

Lt. Saunders, SSO, Married in Texas

Lt. Robert W. Saunders, Special Services Officer for the Timber Wolf Mountaineer Regiment, and Miss Eleanor M. Parker were married last Saturday, May 29 in Dallas, Texas, the bride's home town.

Lt. Saunders is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Saunders of Leachburg, Pennsylvania, and a graduate of Penn State. Mrs. Saunders is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Parker, and her brother, Col. Parker, was formerly stationed at Camp Adair. She is a graduate of Sam Houston State College and Oregon State College, Corvallis.

Quiet Afternoon

Mrs. Julia Hopp who works in Club 1's cafeteria had visitors from Salem. Her son, Leo Hopp and Thelma Raph, his girl friend spent the afternoon playing Chinese checkers on the second deck of the club.

Song-Fest At Club 2 Marks Memorial Day

Memorial Day, last Monday, was marked during the weekly Song-Fest at Service Club 2, by the singing of "The Lord's Prayer" by Pvt. Waldo and a brief, inspirational message to the men given by Chaplain (Major) Loren T. Jenks, head chaplain of the new division. "Battle Hymn of the Republic" was also sung by the soldiers and their friends in the club.

Before and after this brief observation, Miss Kuhwarth, social and recreational hostess, together with Pvt. Waldo led the singing. Song Books and Song Sheets provided the words, and Sgt. Howard Townsend was at the piano.

Soldiers Like Tots

Mrs. Alta Hovias spent her day of leisure at Camp Adair with her husband, Pvt. Utah Hovias.

She gave both her husband and the rest of Club 1's patrons a real pleasure when she brought the Christians down who have three tiny tots. The three children, George, 8; Ernest, 6; and Donna, 3, added real life to an already lively atmosphere.

Mid-Week Hops Attract Crowds

Rhumba Night, Club 1 On Thurs.; Informal Hop, Club 2 on Tues.

Two mid-week dances conducted at the Service Clubs . . . the informal hop at Club 2 on Tuesday and the Latin-American dance at Club 1 on Thursday . . . are attracting more and more EM weekly. Much of their popularity is due to the dance bands that play.

Last Tuesday night, a gang of Jr. Hostesses from Corvallis, augmented by several comely lassies who work on the Post, were on hand as partners at Club 2 dance. Last Thursday night a dozen or so McMinnville belles were on hand at Club 1 for the rhumba and conga dance. Tonight they will return, it is expected.

Tomorrow night, the regular enlisted men's dance at the Field House will be in progress from 8 P.M. until 10:45 P.M. with junior hostesses coming out from the surrounding towns.

Latest USO Show Hit With Adair Audiences

Officers, EM Like "Hold Everything" With Variety Acts

'Off The Cob' Is Term for Films Booked at Club 1

A series of good, old-fashioned Western movies . . . full-length . . . and admittedly right off the cob . . . is in store for the gang in Service Club 1 commencing next Sunday night.

This was announced today by Miss Ann Caddy, hostess, who maintains the full-length films are "corny, but that's what makes them good."

This Sunday night series of horse operas will be augmented by appropriate short-subjects.

It's a FREE program, and has developed out of the regular Sunday night movie-shorts show started a couple of months ago.

Cpl. Stanley Severson of the Field Artillery Bees in the Timber Wolf Division was surprised by his sisters, Carol and Ina who made a trip here from Seattle to spend the week-end with him.

"Hold Everything", the USO show, which completed a two-day run at Theater 2 Monday evening was received with warm enthusiasm by soldiers and officers throughout this Post. It is next scheduled for the Portland Air Base.

The biggest hit in the program were "The Three Rays," three girls, in a comedy, acrobatic knock-about act that has been justly popular both in Europe and America.

At least one soldier receives a thrill in each performance when one of the "Rays" 'accidentally' on purpose slides off the stage right into his arms and kisses the one in this fortunate position.

While mentioning highlights it is impossible to overlook the Chester Fredericks and Kay Wilson comedy dancing act. Particularly good for a laugh is Chester's hilarious travesty on jitterbugs.

Outstanding is Jean Nelson from Seattle who sang a group of four songs.

Frank Payne proved to be a definite hit. He gave his impression of several movie stars. When he came to Jerry Colonna, Frank wore fake eyes and a mustache. In imitating Colonna's singing, Payne almost literally made some soldiers roll in the aisles. On Sunday evening Frank Payne dropped over to Service Club 2 and together with Nick Sansonia entertained for an hour.

Paul Nolan, a juggler and his wife were exceptional for this type of act. Young and Kaye, a "slapstick" act also had appeal.

SERVICE BULLETIN BOARD CATCHES ON

The Service Bulletin Board has been well-received at Club 1. All types of notices are appearing already!

"Wanted a roller skating partner," says one note. Attached to it is a gal's picture. Her name is Lillian Orver from the PX 3 tailor shop.

The board already caters to all the fundamental instincts. If you're hungry, give the cafeteria notice a look-see; broke and still want to have fun? Take a gander at "Where to Go at the USO" or the "Service Men's Date Book."

There are many other interesting items on the board which is Cpl. Jacobi's "brainstorm." Pvt. Lionel Kay wants to find someone interested in stamps; Pvt. John Derosa desires to rent an apartment. A news item tells that $100 is offered for the best artillery song.

To top it all off, a lady came in one afternoon and placed a large poster on the board offering to sew on any stary buttons or insignia today between the hours of 3 to 5 p. m.

Brief Vespers Service To Start Sunday, Club 2

A brief vespers service, on Sunday afternoon, will be launched at Club 2 this week, according to Miss Madge Kuhwarth, hostess. A brief message from Chaplain (Major) Jenks will be featured each week, and appropriate music will be played and sung.
