

Skaters Thrill At Field House

Clowning, Dancing, Intricate Routines in Great 90-Minute Show

Grace, precision; rhythm and comedy—all on wheels! This was the Saturday night attraction last weekend when the Oak Skaters club of Portland presented their "1943 Show On Wheels" before an audience of 1,500 officers, EM and their guests at Field House.

The unique roller-skating spectacle was brought to Camp Adair through the efforts of Miss Ann T. Caddy, social and recreational hostess of Service Club 1 who was assisted in arrangements by Miss Madge Kuhwarth of Club 2 and Lt. Walter Sindlinger, of Post Special Services.

Intricate skating routines and dance numbers, interspersed with several clown acts provided 90 big minutes of entertainment. This was the first show of its kind ever to be presented on the post, and the audience was more than appreciative.

Gay 90's Hit

Hit of the evening was the "Gay 90's Revue," in costume, interpreted by the male skaters. Beauty and charm was evident in "Precision Personified" featuring Violet Hoard and Jeanne Pritchard. Comedy was the keynote of "Take Me Out To The Ball Game."

The Oakettes, identically costumed for the various numbers, offered beauty and sparkle from their opening "Anchor's Aweigh" routine to the finale done in Latin-American costume.

Each and every member of the cast, together with the production crew, is worthy of high praise for this worthwhile and highly entertaining show.

What's the Secret? Jim, Let Us In It, We're Not Agin' It

Cpl. "Jim" Shackleton, who directs athletics at the Field House, recently patented an invention which promises to be a boon to all pipe-smokers.

The handy little gadget can be inserted into the mouthpiece of any pipe and is guaranteed to remove the "bite" from any tobacco.

Although the invention is not yet commercially available, the Kay-woodie Pipe Company is reported interested in it and will probably buy the patent rights to it in the near future.

Pt. of Liquor Per Week; What Does This All Matter?

The SENTRY reprints the following news only for the civilians on the Post (we know it is of no importance to soldiers, oh verily):

The Oregon liquor control commission has cut the ration from one quart to one pint of liquor per person per week effective last Saturday. The "bonus" of one-fifth of gin has also been discontinued.

This will, it is expected, put an end to all the troubles that the MP's have been having with inebriated civilians. For even among the few, few soldiers that do drink, there are none that would feel the influence of such a tiny pittance.

Bill Fold Girl ...

... of the Week

"Brother," spoke Cpl. Joe Fontanazza of the Post QM, "you are looking at the nation's playground, Coney Island. In the foreground is beautiful, breathtaking, vivacious Rosalind Golden; truly 'The Golden Girl'—and my heart throb."

Miss Golden stands five feet seven inches, tips the proverbial beam at 120 well-distributed pounds, has big, blue eyes, reddish hair!

You won't see Miss Golden in these parts. She's still waiting for him back in, oh, oh!—BROOKLYN! She is a model by profession, and Fontanazza's flame by choice.

Don't you wish you knew how to teeter-totter?

The concertina was invented by an Englishman in 1829.

Service Club Exhibit Honors Allied Nations

Posters Depict World Crusade Against Axis

"The United Nations Fight For Freedom" is the theme depicted in a striking library layout at Service Club 2.

The world at large is represented by the globe. A poster drawn by Pfc. Paul Dannheiser brings home the point that this is a crusading war against the Axis to uphold democracy.

The books graphically portray the contributions of the nations against fascism.

Outstanding works in the group include "China Shall Rise Again," by Madame Chiang Kai-Shek; "Mission to Moscow," by Joseph Davies; "America," 'The Story of a Free People,' by Nevins and Commager; and "The Unrelenting Struggle" by Winston Churchill.

Anti-Axis Treatise

THIS CLUB 2 LIBRARY display was snapped while Sgt. Nick Sansonia at the extreme left argues with Miss Helen Shumacher in the center who by means of a ruler demonstrates what the next move in Europe might be.

Mrs. Ida Rudner at the extreme right looks at the book arrangement which so dramatically shows what the democracies are doing to wipe out racial prejudice and religious intolerance.

Timber Wolf Captain Weds Sister of Assistant Red Cross Director

Miss Ada Keyes, assistant Red Cross Field Director, who herself would look mighty pretty in a wedding costume, was attendant at the recent marriage of her sister, Mary Evelyn Keyes, who on June 1 became the bride of Capt. Frank Burrall Woodworth of the Timber Wolf Geysers regiment in ceremony performed at Camp White by Chaplain Graebner.

Mrs. Woodworth is daughter of Mrs. E. Keyes of Lebanon and the captain is son of Mrs. G. L. Woodworth, of Seattle. Lt. Edwin L. Johnson was best man.

The couple will reside in Albany.

MAJOR THROWS PARTY FOR HIS CADRE

In honor of his officer cadre, Major John Zimmerman, commander of a Field Artillery battalion in the new division, last Saturday night staged a buffet supper and reception at Division Field Artillery Club. The week before, Col. Herbert Morris threw a similar party for his men.

Arrangements were made by Mrs. Merriam, club directress, and Miss Kuhwarth, assistant hostess, together with Lt. John Williams of the division. Eleven girls from Corvallis were on hand by arrangement of Miss Jean Hand of Post Ordnance.

Entertainment during the evening was furnished by Sgt. Nick Sansonia, of the club staff, who entertained with songs and his popular impression of radio personalities . . . Ted Lewis, Bing Crosby, Arthur Tracy and Jimmy Durante, and piano numbers by Pvt. Williams.

Lt. Art "Andy" Watson of the new division also appeared and introduced an original piano number "Never Again." Mrs. Merriam also appeared and sang several popular tunes and group singing of favorites of the Army, Navy and universities.
