91st Boxers Travel; Sports Program Big!

91st vs. 96th March 14, Camp White; 70th Title Cage Games

Big-time sports has been hitting Camp Adair consistently. Latest announcement yesterday is that the 91st Division boxing team will leave Camp Adair March 12 to take on the pugilists of the 96th Division at Camp White in an eight-bout card March 14. A retinue of 18 fighters, alternates, handlers and managers will make the trip.

On top of this, last night saw the Field House echoing again to cheers as the 276th Infantry and 70th QM basketball quintets clashed for the championship of the Trailblazer division. The game climaxed red-hot quarter and semi-final tilts held during the week.

Ping pong, although not a major sport, has likewise held major interest, and last night also witnessed the Trailblazer singles championship match in a game proceeding the basketball contest at Field House.

Men of the 91st division are rolling up their sleeves in earnest for the spring diamond offensive, both in soft-ball and hard-ball. Plans are also underway for a Post-wide tourney in one of the "more mental sports," viz. draughts, or checkers, as it is more commonly known. Full details of "sports at Adair" will be found in the sports section.

High Praises Greet New Trailblazer Mag

Consensus of Opinion 'Best Edition Yet'

"It's swell!"
"That 'Sack' is sure funny. Have we got him in our division now?"

"Timmons is getting to be just as much a character as the 'Sad Sack'."
"The pictures are really good."
"I'm going to send a bunch of the Trailblazers home."

These were some of the many comments by the men of the 70th Division as they read and enjoyed the third edition of their own picture magazine, the "Trailblazer," which went on sale this week.

All New and Different
Entirely new and different in scope and content, the "Trailblazer," in this issue, vividly cap-

Colored Revue Here Two Nights

USO-Camp Show Bring Featured Performers To Adair's Theaters

Tonight and tomorrow night, USO-Camp Shows are bringing to Adair "Let's Go," an all-colored musical revue featuring entertainers whose performances have earned them "tops" ratings in show business.

Free to all GIs, two performances have been scheduled for each evening. The show has been booked for Theater 2 tonight and for Theater 5 tomorrow night. Both nights the first show starts at 1900, and the second goes on at 2030. In addition there will be a special performance for patients on Saturday afternoon in the Red Cross Building at the Station hospital.

Featuring performers who have been with some of the leading outfits in the musical world, "Let's Go" is emceed by Louis Kelsey, whose bellowing has earned for him the title of "the loudest voice in show business." He has worked with Count Basie and Erskine Hawkins.

Smiles and Smiles, a boy and girl team with a smart song, dance and comedy routine, bring to "Let's Go" the same act they have done with Chick Webb, Cab Calloway and Benny Goodman. Comedy routines that have brightened some of the Bill Robinson and Jimmy Junciford shows are repeated by Sandy Burns, veteran comedian.

Maj. Harmon, 1st Post Chaplain, Ordered to Calif.

Major Lloyd V. Harmon, Camp Adair's first Post chaplain, left this week for new duties as senior chaplain at the DeWitt General Hospital, Auburn, Calif., thus bringing to an end an association that began while this Post was still under construction and the relatively few men here lived in tents waiting for barracks to be completed.

Chaplain Harmon received his reserve commission in 1927, and during several periods of active duty served at Ft. Leavenworth and Camp Robinson. Recalled again in 1942, he was assigned to Adair and has served here continuously from July of that year until he received his new orders a few days ago.

Ordained a Methodist minister, Major Harmon is a native of Topeka, Kan. He is the father of two sons in the service. The elder, a captain in the engineers, participated in the invasion of Sicily, and the younger is at present a naval aviation cadet.

1944 Red Cross Drive Largest, Most Urgent

Heavy War-Time Demands Require At Least $200,000,000 Be Raised

Confronted with urgency unprecedented in its long history, the American Red Cross has started its 1944 War Fund Drive which will continue throughout the month of March.

As the war enters the crucial stage and faced with a staggering task in the postwar period, the Red Cross has estimated that its needs for the next 12 months will require the sum of $200,000,000.

Camp Adair officer and civilian personnel will be solicited during the course of the drive, but in accordance with the wishes of both the War Department and the Red Cross, no personal solicitation will be made of enlisted personnel. However, it is the wish of the War Department and the Red Cross that enlisted personnel be given every opportunity to

Navy Calls, The Army Has--So Our Pvt. Clinton Says: 'Tell It to The Marines'

Somewhat in the same category of a castaway who finds a million dollars on a desert island and doesn't know what to do with it is Pvt. Thomas Clinton, Co. H., 275th Inf. Clinton, who is already well-established on Uncle Sam's payroll, was just offered another spot on the same payroll . . . as a Navy officer!

Prior to his induction last August Clinton had applied for a commission in the Navy as a supply officer. Last week the application bore fruit . . . there's a lieutenant (jg) waiting for him.

Even before coming into the Army, Clinton had been paid by Uncle Sam; he was district OPA food rationing officer for the entire state of Kansas. Prior to that he had managed a large wholesale grocery house in Kansas City.

His home is Wichita, Kan., and he entered the Army through Ft. Leavenworth.

Pvt. Clinton's projected metamorphosis to Lt. (jg) Clinton, USNR, is now "going through channels."

He's 'In the Army Now' . . . and Navy Wants Him

BATTLESHIPS HOLD a particular charm these days for Pvt. Thomas Clinton, Co. H., 275th Inf. After six months as an infantryman, he has been offered a commission by the Navy. His request for change of service is at present "going through channels."

A PROCLAMATION

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

WHEREAS the war has entered a decisive stage requiring the fullest measure of individual sacrifice;

WHEREAS the American National Red Cross is an auxiliary to the United States armed forces and, as such, is providing indispensable service to our troops throughout the world as well as to their families at home;

WHEREAS these wartime activities, including the collection of life-saving blood for the wounded, recreation work in military hospitals, provision of aid to families of servicemen, shipment of food parcels to prisoners of war, production of surgical dressings, operation of overseas clubs and recreation centers, and recruitment of Army and Navy nurses, all combine to save countless lives, restore hope, and provide comfort for our fighting men;

WHEREAS, through its vast network of local chapters, this agency of our people simultaneously conducts an extensive program of training and community service, while continuing with traditional efficiency to lessen the distress of those overwhelmed by disaster; and

WHEREAS this agency is wholly dependent upon individual

The World This Week

Monitored by Tec4 John Stump

UNPRECEDENTED WAR IN THE AIR over Europe and the Pacific, sweeping westward drives in Russia—and negotiations for peace in the offing—gave waning hope for the enemy in the world this week . . .

ANGLO-AMERICAN BOMBING DREW the month to a close in a destructive air war over bomb-battered Europe. American bombers blasted again at targets in Brunswick, the Pas de Calais area and vital war production cities, Schweinfurt and Steyr—marking the two cities for complete annihilation by American fliers. RAF planes dropped tons of explosives on Augsburg while others hit targets in southwest Germany, France, Belgium and Holland. In the heaviest attack on
