

Artist Plasters Daub of Farewell

PRACTICALLY ALL PACKED to go from the Post which has been his home away from home for well over a year, Artist Pfc. Paul Dannheiser couldn't refrain from making one last-minute touch on one of the 13 mural panels which he painted at Service Club 2. Although this one doesn't indicate it, the murals depict the life of a GI from induction on through training and into action.

Mural Painter Dannheiser Gets in Last Daubs Before Departing Adair

"Is it true you studied art under Brodovitch, Dannheiser?"

"Yep. Pass me the turpentine."

"How old are you, Dannheiser, and where were you born?"

"Sure. That's right. Pass me the white. I think I need a little more highlights on these things."

And so it was that Pfc. Paul Dannheiser, GI artist who painted the 13 mural panels at Service Club 2, on Saturday put a couple of final touches on his masterpiece and bade farewell to Camp Adair.

Dannheiser, who is 29, was born in Oil City, Pa. In New York he did cartoons for Mademoiselle and Harper's Bazaar, similar to the "black and whites" of his which have appeared in the Sentry.

At Adair, in the Art Workshop at Club 1, Dannheiser worked with oils for the first time and said he developed a personal style in oil which "I feel very good about." Plus his art work, done for Special Service office, Pfc. Dannheiser was nearly a year with Post MP.

The Club 2 mural, which has been well applauded, depicts the life of a GI from the time he gets his

PAINTINGS EXHIBITED

A display of paintings created by Pfc. Paul Dannheiser while at Camp Adair will be on display next week at the Club 2 Library, it was announced by Tec5 Donald Lynch, Art Workshop Director.

"greetings" to the last panel, showing him tossing a grenade into a nest of Japs.

Dannheiser's farewell stop however was at the panel depicting the GI castaway on a desert island, among a covey of very lovely creatures. "Boy, did I have fun painting them babes!" quoth the artist.

Dannheiser said that the most common questions by kibitzers who watch artists paint murals and sometimes get in their hair, include: "Did you paint the others too?" "Is that hand-painted?" and "When are you going to put the eyes in?"

Christian Science

"Reality" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday.

The Golden Text will be, "The counsel of the Lord standeth forever, the thoughts of his heart to all generations" (Ps. 33:11).

The Lesson-Sermon also will include the following correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "To grasp the reality and order of being in its Science, you must begin by reckoning God as the divine Principle of all that really is."

Trailblazer Hero: Killed 14 at Attu

Bayoneted In Back

North knocked off two more of the Nips one of whom bayoneted him in the back through his mess kit while the other wounded his right shoulder. North was wounded again when he placed his right hand over the muzzle of another Jap's rifle in one of the series of hand-to-hand struggles, bayoneting his opponent as the bullet passed through his hand.

When North finally got away he left fourteen of the Sops of Nippon dead as testimony to his courageous fighting in the Japanese last desperate counter-attack on Buffalo Ridge and the Chicago Harbor area.

North dragged his wounded body to the top of a hill, where he lay most of the cold night while the remaining four or five Japs walked around and over him and stripped him of his overcoat and pants so they could dress and look like American infantrymen.

He was rescued several hours later but came through alive only after another narrow escape in a battle which cost the Japs the rest of their men.

North enlisted in the Army in Fresno, Calif., three days before the attack on Pearl Harbor in 1941 while visiting his sister there. He hails from Bristow, Okla., where his mother and father still live. He was assigned to the 70th Division last December and has been in the PTC since its opening two months ago.

New CP Chief Reveals Suggestion Campaign

A new campaign to bring forth suggestions from Post civilian employees which will provide shortcuts to save man hours was announced yesterday by E. L. Cramblitt, who this week succeeded George V. (Moe) Mohatt as Chief of Civilian Personnel.

Rewards ranging upward from $5 will be made for the best suggestions. The program is inaugurated as one means of relieving the recognized manpower shortage. Primarily, suggestions involve safety of others plus the idea to save man hours.

Cramblitt, in his post as Chief of Civilian Personnel, comes to Adair for the second time. He replaces, in Mohatt, a veteran in civilian personnel. "Pvt. Moe" this week quit his post to head "in a general easterly direction" for the Armed Service.

Mohatt has successively been manager of the Post Laundry office; Post safety engineer in charge of the safety and training of civilian employees. Previously, he had been superintendent of construction at the Corvallis Airport and, before that, was a field representative of the International Harvester Co. Cramblitt's is also a returned

"vet." His boast is that he helped make up the first issue of the Camp Adair Sentry, which was originally published for civilians working on the construction of the camp by Don Wilson of Corvallis. Cramblitt worked under Col. R. E. M. DesIslets, Area Engineer. He was later assistant to Major Wilson at Camp Abbot and later at Seattle, was Principal Regional Administrative Officer of the War Production Board. He lives in Monmouth.

New Chaplain in 274th Reg. 'Glad He's in Infantry'

Chaplain Victor H. Craft, the newest member of the 274th regimental chapel staff, always expected to be in the infantry, he told a Trailblazer reporter this week, and is mighty glad he has made it.

The new chaplain, pastor of a Lutheran church in Waterford, Wis., before he went GI, is a graduate of the Harvard University chaplain's course.

Leaving Harvard in January, he was assigned temporarily to Presidio Monterey, transferred from there to Camp Roberts, Cal., and then to the Trailblazer Division. It's his first experience with Oregon. A gentle rain was falling as he entered Division Headquarters, and he appeared glad to learn that, despite the moisture, it had been the "driest winter in half a century."

Chaplain Craft feels no fears about the infantry, who march and march and march. He's anxious to try out his feet, and will probably have an opportunity to do so.

Chaplain Luther R. Vann of the Special Troops Chapel staff welcomed Chaplain Craft to the Trailblazers.

Special Devices for Navy Battle Practice

(ANS)—Some 500 devices, many of them original inventions which simulate flying effects ranging from enemy gunfire to tropical storms, have been turned out by the Navy in two and a half years for training naval aviators, the Division of Special Devices reveals. The great advantage of these scores of devices, the Navy points out, is that they give the student realistic battle experience without tying up costly combat equipment, and without interfering with actual combat activities.
