

'State Night' Highlights Club 1 Program

Big Show Saturday to Honor 'Native Sons'

Prizes to Be Given By American Legion

One of the biggest Saturday night events yet sponsored by the 70th Division, "State Night" at Service Club 1 tomorrow night will feature dancing, talent contests and very substantial prizes.

The prizes, the special services office declares, will be "the real thing." American Legion Posts in Minnesota, Illinois, Oklahoma, Texas, Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, Nebraska, Wisconsin and Arkansas are donating them.

Spoils System Plus

Cash, and substantial "goods and articles of value" have been received to distribute to winners of various contests: the Trail-blazer GI from each State who has been in the service longest and the entertainment skit representing a State judged best.

Each special service unit in the Division is at work on an act for the show. Several other talent acts are also in preparation.

Free cigarettes are on the bill, SSO announced.

The show starts at 1930, and the contests and entertainment runs an hour. The 70th Division Dance Band, ace dhythm group, will play for dancing at 2030.

70th Captain and Nurse Married in Military Ceremony

In a wedding done a la combat engineer, Capt. Kermit A. Siegrist, 270th Engineers, and 1st Lt. Genevieve (Gene) Krawczeski, of Camp Adair Station Hospital, were married last Saturday evening in the 70th Division Special Troops Chapel.

The ceremony climaxed a romance which began last September.

As the bridal couple emerged from the church after the ceremony, they were met by a regulation 10-ton pontoon-boat, inflated and on wheels, in which they rode from the chapel to the hospital for the reception.

A dance for the wedding-party was held at the 70th Officers' Club later in the evening.

The couple will make their home in Corvallis. The bride's home city is Rochester, N. Y., Capt. Siegrist's is Meadville, Mo. He commands Co. B, 270th Engineers.

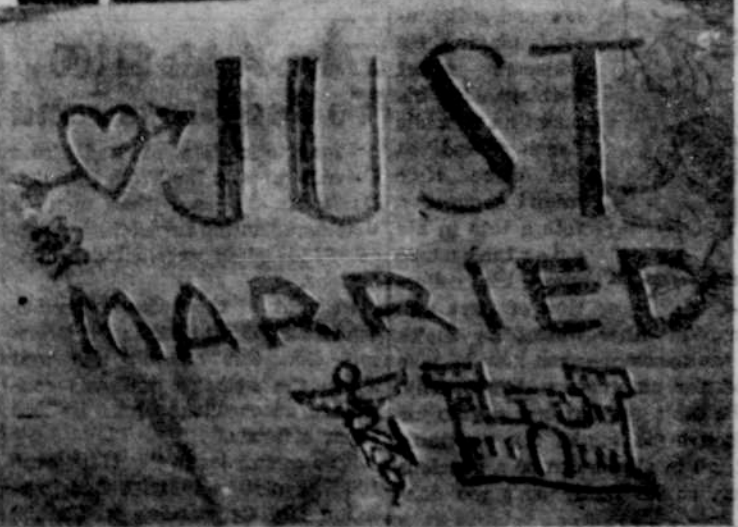

Camouflage blinds the enemy! Get in the shadow.

'Three Jeans' in Jeans Here Sunday Night

"THE THREE BLUE JEANS" from Kaiser Shipyard, charming and harmonious, will be in the shipyard revue presented Sunday night at Club 1, starting at 2000. They are, left to right, Jean Perry, Jean Park and Jean Wollam, all day shift employees of the yard.

Captain, Lieutenant Wed at Chapel 2

Dancing, Battle Of Wits Listed on Club 1's Schedule

By Adele Adair

Big doings at Club 1 this week have sorta pushed this column aside, so we'll have to tell you in a real "quickie" what's cooking at the Club this week:

COMES FRIDAY NIGHT

And, as usual, you dance-minded GIs will truck on over to the Field House dance (2000 to 2330) where, also as unusual, junior hostesses

READ — THEN DANCE!

Adele and lots of others have noticed this sad situation, and so this week we're turning the spotlight on the GI joker who stands around, and looks at junior hostesses at Service Club dances—but makes nary a move to dance. (We know they're pretty, but there's a time and place for everything, and what do you think they have that smooth music for?)

Hostesses of nearby towns are taking steps to limit the number of their girls who can attend a dance, because of this particular brand of "armchair generals." So—let's dance.

REAL BATTLE OF WITS

Monday will match four junior hostesses from Salem with four GIs of the 70th Division's PRTC in what should prove a real battle for the gals (who usually win), as these GIs are former ASTUdents.

Special numbers will be presented between "rounds" of the battle, and prizes will go to the audience as well as contestants.

WALTZ ME AROUND—

Waltzes may not be included, but

'Kaiser Varieties' At Club on Sunday

Well-Balanced Show Slated by Shipyard

Swing shifters and other workers from Kaiser's Vancouver shipyards will take time off this weekend to bring their well-known "Kaiser Varieties" to Club 1 Sunday at 2000.

Featuring several old-time vaudeville players and new talent uncovered in the plant, the "Varieties" has been highly-lauded at various USO spots in the northwest, including Ft. Lewis, Wash.

Twenty members of the troupe, directed by Don McCoy of Station KOIN, Portland, will make the trek to Adair Sunday.

Highlighting the performance will be the popular shipyard trio, "The Blue-Jeans," who (in jeans) give out with plenty of harmony. The girls, pictured on this page, include Jean Park, Jean Perry and Jean Wollam.

Other players are Alma Theis, girl accordionist; a male quartette; a male acrobatic dancer; a charming girl tap dancer, and a gal whistler. All are employees of the shipyard.

they'll be about the only dance not taken in by Tuesday and Wednesday nights' program at Club 1. Tuesday is the regular informal dance night, with junior hostesses and a pick-up band. Wednesday, square games and folk dancing with some 70 girls from Oregon State College will take up at Club 1 where it left off at Club 2 when the college vacation started two weeks ago.

Following Trend, Post Theaters Put Emphasis on Light Musicals, Comedy

MEET THE PEOPLE—Not a major musical, but it will hold its own well in the current trend to light musical entertainment (definitely noticeable at the Post theaters this week). Story concerns a comedy produced in a shipyard where the star (practicing for her role as a shipyard worker) is frozen in the job. Rousing finale and a little number entitled "Shicklegruber" in the middle might well stop the show. Combines vocalizing to a satire on oriental dances by Mata and Hari, a smart performance by Lucille Ball and sprightly musical score by orchestras of Vaughn Monroe and Spike Jones. You'll relax, GI.

COWBOY AND THE SENORITA—A sure-fire box office treat in this fast-moving musical-western-romance featuring cowboy Roy Rogers. Backed up with bell-ringer scenes of Western adventure, it has a profusion of snappy musical numbers. Both the original songs and the smooth speciality dancers will have you applauding. More on the light entertainment side.

UNCERTAIN GLORY—The solemn picture in this week's new fare—it is a story of conquered France and hostages combined in a fresh treatment which may give it distinctive appeal to GIs. Almost a performance piece, its stars are Paul Lukas (Academy Award winner) and Errol Flynn. Flynn's mixture of insolence and guile as the thief-who-turns-hero are excellently done and keep suspense alive to the end.

YOU CAN'T RATION LOVE—This, advance blurbs predict, will appeal to the "bobby-sock age" movie-goer. But again, for light musical-comedy, it's all yours. It turns the old story of rationing into a new and different use—dates with the men remaining on the small college campus are strictly rationed and when a gal gets too low in her point supply, she has to be content with "Two Point Simpson." This is all well and good, until "Two Point Simpson" develops unsuspected qualities.
