

Dance at Chemeketa for Air Corps; Corvallis USO Discussion Start

Notes from the USO front: Chemeketa USO, Salem, is sponsoring a formal especially for Adair GIs formerly in the air corps; Tuesday is the date. Corvallis' long-postponed discussion groups will start this Sunday. GIs, wives and junior hostesses invited. Big news up George White Center way is that Jack Benny will present his show there Friday night. Take it in, if you're in Portland.

Formal for Ex-Airmen

The big event at Chemeketa Street USO, Salem, next week will be a special formal dance for former air cadets now stationed in the Infantry at Camp Adair. All are invited.

There will be a military orchestra and junior hostesses for dancing partners. Hours are from 2030 to 2330; the date, next Tuesday.

TRIP TO STATE PEN

Educational trip Sunday will be to the Oregon State Penitentiary, with the bus leaving Chemeketa Street USO, Salem, at 1400.

GIs making this tour not only find the state's penal institution interesting, but they also may buy myrtlewood objects made by the prisoners. Proceeds go in their individual accounts for the time of their release.

Since myrtlewood can be purchased only in Oregon and Palestine, the wood makes an excellent gift.

SQUARE DANCING OFF

With the coming of warm weather (we hope), square dancing at Chemeketa USO has been discontinued until further notice.

Discussions to Start

The long-postponed discussion series at the Corvallis USO will begin this Sunday, with Dr. Warrington of Oregon State College Religious Education department leading the informal talk-fests.

Held in the third floor fireplace room, the discussions have proved popular with GIs, their wives and junior hostesses, all of whom are invited.

LOTS OF JUNIOR HOSTESSES

Totals of junior hostesses at the Corvallis USO have reached an all-time high lately, so there are always plenty of dance partners for GIs, it is promised.

Bingo on Friday

Bingo with free prizes seems to be very popular with GIs and their wives on Friday night at the Albany USO.

REGULAR WEEKEND DANCE

The regular Saturday - night dance will be held at the Albany USO from 2030 to 2300 on the ballroom floor. Junior hostesses will be on hand.

FREE COFFEE, DOUGHNUTS

Free coffee and doughnuts are served until noon at the Albany USO. Movie, "The Remarkable Andrew," will be shown at 1630 and 2000 with a sing starting at 1900, featuring your old and new favorites.

DANCING TUESDAY

GIs may dance at the Albany USO's midweek dance this Tuesday.

POETRY CLASS

All GIs who wish may try their hand at making pottery Wednesday night at the Albany USO, when Mrs. Mabel Penland, teacher of ceramics at Albany High, will show how it's done.

Figures of animals, bowls, ash trays, are some of the gifts which may be made and colored. No artistic ability is required, and an exhibit of articles will be held later.

Monmouth USO Musical

All service men, their wives and friends are cordially invited to a musical program Tuesday at 2000 at the Monmouth USO. Vocal and instrumental numbers will be given by service men as well as girls from the College of Education.

Remember, the Monmouth Club has facilities for company or other group parties. The canteen committee is ready to assist in the preparation and serving of refreshments at these parties. Contact the director for further information and available dates.

STARS OF TOMORROW

Saturday morning at 1100, the Stars of Tomorrow will broadcast from George White Center, via the KGW air waves. A usual, 10 minutes will be given over to you service men for ad libbing.

BIG CONCERT SCHEDULED

The Lincoln High Chorus will be at George White Center Sunday to give your Sunday evening concert, and have prepared a very fine program under the direction of Eleanor Tipton.

Benny at George White

Jack Benny will visit the George White Center, Portland, tonight and will put on his famous show for GIs from 2000 to 2100 in the Little Theater on the third floor.

Most of the cast will be there (the same group coming to Adair Sunday), including Mary Livingston . . . Phil Harris . . . Rochester . . . Don Wilson.

MOTHER'S DAY GIFTS

They're working fast in the Art and Crafts workshop at George White Center these days, finishing up Mother's Day gifts, so they may be mailed on time. Remember, the Recreation Hostesses on the 5th floor will be glad to wrap them and see that they get mailed for you.

Which of these subjects would you like to learn?

All over the U. S. A., anywhere overseas—you can continue your education through this Army-Navy school. Courses follow you wherever you go!

Did you enter the Army before you finished high school? Join up with your college career incomplete? Have you discovered while in the Army a new vocation or profession you want to make your career after the war?

To back up your Army training with academic study the U. S. Armed Forces Institute offers you the chance to continue your education right now while you are in uniform. You study by correspondence, or with a self-teaching textbook, or in an off-duty class. All it takes is a few hours a week of interesting work.

Education follows you overseas

The Institute program circles the globe. Headquarters in the U.S.A. are at Madison, Wisconsin. Overseas branches are in the European, Middle East, Southwest Pacific, Central Pacific and Alaskan theatres. These branches are bringing correspondence lesson service to American soldiers in war theatres. Over a million soldiers have used educational materials provided by the Institute.

Courses offered

You can study practically any subject you want to learn. For men who want to earn credit for school diplomas the Institute offers mathematics, science, English and other standard subjects required for credit in the best civilian schools. Your work may be submitted for credit in any school you designate. Other courses teach technical skills that step-up military efficiency as well as train for a civilian vocation.

$2—Take as many courses as you like

The cost for all of this is $2. (Army officers pay a slightly higher fee and should inquire for details.) This fee entitles you to study as many Institute correspondence or self-teaching courses as you like as long as your work is satisfactory.

How to get started

Select the course you're most interested in and mail the coupon (or a copy of it) to the address below. (Send no money.) Or, ask your Orientation, Education or Special Service officer for an enrollment blank. Wherever you are, whatever you are doing, this opportunity is meant for you. Begin study now!

Orientation Film, 'Know Britain,' To Be Shown Civilians Tomorrow

All Civil Service employees are to attend the Orientation films "Know Your Ally—Britain." The film will be shown at Theater 4 on Saturday at 0800 and 1300. It will be shown to Hospital employees in the Red Cross auditorium Friday, at 0900 and 1330.

Attendance at this program is compulsory; roll will be taken. Half the employees will be released by section heads at the prescribed period. PX and Red Cross employees unable to attend at hospital or Theater 4 may attend at Film Lab.

"Blue Cross Plan"

Interviews Arranged

The National Hospitalization of Medical and Hospital Security, the Blue Cross Plan for Hospitalization, and Government Employees of Cash Benefit Association are requested to be available for interview during the hours of 1200-1245, 1445-1545 and at the Benton hotel evenings. These members will arrange to interview representatives of first choice as indicated on ballot at the earliest practical time.

Civilian Bowlers; You're Invited to Join Now

If any civilian employees wish to join the bowling team they may turn in their names to Civilian Employees Personnel Section. More players are needed.

Yessir! This Stranger Knew When He'd Erred

Edgewood, Iowa (CNS)—Tom Arnold saw a stranger leading his stolen dog along the street. He accosted the fellow and demanded the dog's return. "Prove it's your dog," the stranger challenged. Arnold struck a match, held the flame in front of the dog's mouth and said, "Blow it out." The dog blew it out. "Your dog," said the stranger, walking away.

This is your chance to continue your education!
