

As Medics '49ers Celebrated Fourth of July

OVER-ALL SCENE of the second annual '49er celebration of the Fourth of July by SCU Medics, patients and families, just before the crowds attending sat down to a bountiful repast which included 650 pounds of chicken.

STATION HOSPITAL CONVALESCENTS among the 1800 attending Medics July Fourth celebration, here partake of the free beer which flowed regularly during the day-long festivities.

Tribute to Marines, Haley Comedy Rate Tops on Week's Movie Schedule

MARINE RAIDERS—Exploits of the Marines on Guadalcanal, this is a hot action film, a graphic lesson in warfare and a thrilling tribute to a great fighting force. Takes you into "boot camp," most of which was filmed at Camp Elliott, Calif., and then on to climatic warfare as the Marines take over a Jap-held island "somewhere in the Pacific." Strong cast includes Pat O'Brien, Ruth Hussey and Frank McHugh.

TAKE IT BIG—Jack Haley is at his funniest in this hilarious musical, which is practically guaranteed to provide a side-splitting evening. Haley, the love-sick rear end of a vaudeville horse, goes to a dude ranch to "get away from it all." The trouble is, the front of the horse goes also. Harriet Hilliard, Ozzie Nelson and Mary Beth Hughes are in on the zany proceedings.

THE HAIRY APE—Taken from Eugene O'Neill's famous play, this movie, while thrilling, fails to live up to the heights set by its predecessor. William Bendix gives a comedy touch to his role as a tough stoker on a freighter ("the hairy ape"), probably because the scenes as played on Broadway would not pass the Hays office. The picture suffers, but it's still exciting.

SOUTH OF DIXIE—Part of a double feature, this is a light, pleasing musical which pokes fun at the south while putting over several charming songs.

SECRETS OF SCOTLAND YARD—Good spy stuff, this yarn is based on the famous thriller novel "Room 40, O.B." Revolves around an English staff which specializes in decoding Nazi messages.

Marine Variety Show

Marine Air Base men, emceed by Cpl. Bartlett, will present a rousing Variety Show Sunday at 2000 at the Corvallis USO club. Vocalists, a violinist and a pianist from the base will entertain, and a special guest will be Virginia Steed, singer at OSC.

And 1800 Enjoy Big Medics 49er Party

"A buck a ball," they yelled from the booths as visitors swarmed over the ball park at the Station Hospital where the hospital patients were holding their annual '49er Celebration.

Paper money by the fives and tens floated from hand to hand, Cupie dolls and plaster-paris pups were the rewards for having a good eye and a strong pitching arm. The boy on the trapeze "floated through the air"—right into the water tank.

Even the "Horror" of Hollywood, Frankenstein himself, came to the party and got a ducking. There was fortune-telling and live snakes (snakes found on the grounds during the day), riding-

Shipyard Variety Show At Club Sunday, 2000

By Adele Adair

High spot in this week's Club 1 schedule will be a variety show brought to Adair by workers of the Swan Island shipyards, Portland. Called the "Pangerettes," the troupe of approximately 10 entertainers presents a well-balanced, rounded show, according to Hostess Ann Caddy.

Time will be Sunday at 2000.

Singers, dancers and instrumentalists, combining into a fast-moving, swingy program, will be featured.

A hula dancer who also plays the electric Hawaiian guitar is Nadine Leathers, while her sister, Norma, will give out with the blues. Featured on the electric Spanish guitar will be Frances Reinert, while a group of vocalists (including Jeanne Jernander, Gladys Bayles and Eddie Becker) will be among those adding their talents to the evening's show.

Then to the rest of the week's dates:

Field House Dancing

Tonight will find the Field House dance in full swing, while Club 1 will offer bingo and FREE prizes to lucky players.

More Dancing

The 70th Division dance band will be on hand at Club 1 tomorrow night to provide music for the weekly cabaret dance, which will be attended by junior hostesses from McMinnville and Monmouth. A floor show is promised.

Movies, GI Style

GI movie features will be shown Monday night at Club 1, while Tuesday is the regular mid-week informal dance. A 70th division band will play, and all girls from the Post, as well as junior hostesses, are invited to attend.

Tell the Truth!

One of the Club's most popular laugh-fests will return to favor Wednesday night with the introduction of a new "Truth or Consequences" series, which will match four GIs with four gals. In the past, 'tis said, the gals always came out on top. How about that?

'Oregon's Own' Broadcasts

The 70th Division radio show, sent out over the KEX wires weekly from Club 1 on Thursday nights, will continue its series this week. Featuring top musicians of the division, who play for club audiences before and after the radio show, the program has become very popular among music-loving GIs.

Picnics Sunday at Corvallis; Salem YMCA Swimming Pool Open to all GIs

Summer's here, we hope, and so your USO calendar goes something like this: Sign up at the Corvallis USO to go on the Sunday-afternoon picnics . . . 25 cent charge for GIs and junior hostesses alike. The YMCA swimming pool in Salem is open to all GIs Sunday.

YMCA Pool Open

Swim pool at the Salem YMCA is open to all GIs Sunday from 1200 to 1600. Trunks are available at the USO, Chemeketa street.

Two Girls of Week

Latest girls of the week, honored at the Corvallis USO the past two weeks, are Kathleen Anderson, No. 19, and Jeanne Leonard red-headed 20th Girl of the Week.

Kathleen is a sophomore in secretarial science at OSC, and is employed this summer at Post Engineers. Brown-haired and brown-eyed, this Canadian-born lass likes dancing, swimming, bowling. She joins her sister, Margaret, in the Hall of Fame.

Jeanne, a native-born Oregonian, has been a junior hostess for two years. Among other duties she serves faithfully in the snack bar or at the checkroom desk when she isn't dancing or playing ping pong, at which she's an expert.

Red-headed and green-eyed, Jeanne is a senior at Oregon State and a member of Chi Omega sorority. She loves swimming and tennis and collects popular records.

Picnics on Sunday

GIs and junior hostesses alike may sign at the Corvallis USO club for the weekly Sunday-afternoon picnics held at Avery park. Register in advance or before 1500 Sunday, when the group will leave the club.

Entertainment consists of softball and canoeing; refreshments will be served.
