Sam Combs and John Barnhill spent Friday and Saturday at Wallowa, witnessing the foot ball game on Friday.

Ray Vest returned from Lostine Saturday where he had been assisting Fitzpatrick and son in taking an invoice of their stock.

Surveyor Reavis returned from the Innala last week where he laid out a town site for L. J. Booth. The name of town will be Garden City.

As a side issue for his personal amusement K. S. Pace is trapping along the river this winter. He has caught quite a number of muskrats, muskrats and skunks.

A. G. Miller, of the firm of Wm. Miller & Co., came in from La Grande Saturday and has been looking after the last business. He suffered a broken leg while driving to town Elgin.

Chas. S. Day and family formerly of The Dalles have moved into the J. S. Cook house in the north part of town. Mr. Day has purchased a half interest in the Electric Light plant. Mr. Day is a daughter of Wm. Makin.

Frank Scott formerly of Peoria creek passed through town Saturday en route for Elgin. He is now located near St. Marys Idaho, where he is holding down a homestead. He informs us that K. Durbin, formerly a proprietor of the Cannery, is now proprietor of the Co. at St. Marys.

The long drawn out case of Weaver vs Booth before C. H. Zurcher as referee came to a close as far as the testimony was concerned on Wednesday. Judge Eakin will now review the testimony as type written on over one hundred pages and render a verdict therefrom. Cook & DePue are attorneys for Weaver, and Burleigh & Burleigh for Booth.

MARRIAGE.—In this city Jan. 26, Harvey W. Harris and Miss Lora Cramer, Rev. Walker officiating. The groom is the well-known school teacher of the county, and a resident of Powatka. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Cramer of this city.

Notwithstanding the severe weather Friday night quite a number of people attended Rev. Marvin's lecture on Tennyson. He handled his subject quite well. The proceeds will be applied on lifting the old debt on the church building.

The home of W. R. Holmes has been quarantined on account of the appearance of two cases of mild form of scarlatina in his family. All due caution has been taken and there is no fear that the disease will spread.

W. C. Wilson and wife came out from Paradise last week and have been visiting their sons and daughters at Joseph. Mr. Wilson returned home Wednesday but Mrs. Wilson will remain in Joseph for a short time.

A letter from Dr. E. W. Barnes advises us that he is still practicing his profession—medicine and preaching, at North Powder. He also expresses great hopes for the future of that section in the way of mines.

The ice harvest began on Ott's pond Tuesday, as well as along the mill ditches. From all appearances there will be plenty of ice-drinks next summer for everybody.

BRIDE.—Jan. 28, 1901, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hilary Hunt of Prairie creek. The cause of her death was scarlet fever.

All subscribers to the Chieftain who live outside of Wallowa county should read the Publishers notice in another column.

The flouring mill has been closed down since Friday, but the electric light plant has only missed two nights.

DEED.—At his home on Prairie creek, Jan. 25, 1901, Daniel Kinney, a highly respected citizen of this county.
