Marshall has taken over his present office in every civilized country in the world.

The largest and most powerful weapon in the world now is the Minoan. Japan's new battleship, which has just left her docks in England bound for Japan. It has a tonnage of 15,000 and carries a crew of nearly a thousand men.

A northwest Missouri entomologist predicts that first-class cattle will sell in the Kansas City market all next summer at no less than three hundred pounds. The indications are that hogs will also bring good prices, 1900 will be a prosperous year for farmers.

A bill to direct the resumption of the holding of present places was introduced in the house Monday by Representative Cummings of New York, who says that the places of department stores and other business concerns make it necessary to provide such fractional coins.

It is not generally known that one-third of the entire area of the United States, exclusive of Alaska, is public land, and that by irrigation over 1,000,000 acres of it can be increased from arid to fertility. Our agricultural prosperity treatment will sustain a greater population than the United States contains today.

Round the world in fifty days regular schedule is now possible. This is the route: New York to London, then London to Chelyabinsk, 7 days; Chelyabinsk to Vladivostok, 18; Vladivostok to Amakur, 11; Amakur to Yokohama, 7 days; Yokohama to Victoria, 16; Victoria to Vancouver, 1; Vancouver to Amakur, 1; Amakur to New York, 4.

The Danish minister at Washington has been authorized to sign the treaty for the sale of the West Indies Islands belonging to Denmark to the United States and the transfer will be made very soon thereafter—when the Senate ratifies the action of the President. The new possessions of Uncle Sam will consist of the Islands of St. Thomas, St. John and St. Croix, or St. Croix. They cost us $5,000,000. Their main value is from a strategical standpoint.

A Connecticut Yankee who has noticed that personal property easily succeeds in evading taxation proposes a scheme to stop it. He would let each man go to the public authority and be permitted to estimate his own wealth. His estimate would be accepted as correct without a question. Then when a man dies only so much as he has paid taxes on should go to the heirs, and any amount that has escaped taxation to the state. The plan is ingenious and might prove more equitable than the present system, making personal property bear more of its just burden which now falls on real estate. How it would work in actual operation is a problem.

Lent.

The season of Lent is now close at hand. In another month the season of social gaiety will be interrupted for forty days, and in its place will come a season of quiet and religious observance. Lent is observed to commemorate the forty days fast of our Lord in the wilderness, begins on February 12—Ash Wednesday. It ends with Easter Sunday—the day of spring. The period of fasting is forty days, with all churches which observe Lent except the Greek churches which have lengthened it to forty-eight days. Sundays are not counted in fast. Pope Gregory the Great in 593 directed that the church should begin on the sixth Sunday before Easter, and then on the intervening week days fasting should be practiced. Afterwards either by June or Gregory II, four days of the preceding week were added, to make the whole fast forty days.

The six Sundays included in the Lenten period are observed as festivals, never as fasts, and are called Sundays of Lent, and not Sundays of Lent. The last or passion week week is considered the most solemn portion of the season and is generally known as "the week."

The ancient observance of Lent was of most rigorous character. Non-observance frequently resulted in severe punishment and often excommunication. All flesh and even scallops ("white meats") were excluded. Modern customs however have caused a relaxation of the old and severe methods of observing the period. But the principal of passing but one meal, with a slight collation, is still everywhere retained.

Celebration of marriages, and participation in the common amusements of the social world are looked upon with disfavor during the Lenten period.

PULLMAN ORDINARY SLEEPERS.

The tourist travel between the East and the Pacific Coast has reached enormous proportions in the last few years, and calls for a special class of equipment. To meet this demand the Pullman Company has issued from its shop what it technically calls the "Pullman Ordinary Sleeper." These cars appear similar to the regular sleepers being built on the same plan but not furnished with the same elegance. They are equipped with mattresses, blankets, sheets, pillows, pillow-cases, towels, comb, brushes, etc., requiring nothing of the kind to be furnished by the passenger. Each car has a stove for making tea and coffee and for heating "night hours" (sleeping) and each section can be fitted with an adjustable table. A uniformed porter accompanies each car, his business being to make up beds, clean the car floor, and look after the wants and comforts of the passenger. In each of the cars which are dispensed daily from Portland by the O. R. & N. Co. is to be found one of these "Pullman Ordinary Sleepers." These are attached to the "Chicago-Portland Special" going through to Chicago without change, and the "Atlantic Express" runs to Klamath City without change. Passengers in this car for Chicago change to a similar car at Kenner.

Many of the first class travellers being carried in these cars, the rates being lower, and the service nearly equal to that in the palace sleepers.
