Clark, of the firm of Clark & Austin, started last Wednesday with two teams to Lewiston after freight.

Victor Robinson took a gentleman and his family, who were from North Carolina, and hunting a home, to Grouse last Thursday.

Miss Prudence Eddlemon went to Grouse last Thursday for a visit with her sister Mrs. Paul Moore.

A. M. Wagner returned last week from a trip over in Washington in search of a location but came back with the opinion that Wallowa county is above the average.

Supt. Conley was down from Joseph Saturday. He thinks that the county court should furnish him an office room, as the one now used as a county court room, etc. is very unsatisfactory.

J. A. Alford, proprietor of the Buckhorn saloon, has purchased the building in which the saloon has been conducted, from A. E. Flowers. He has changed the name from Delta to Buckhorn.

An Irishman who attended the Democratic state convention remarked to a company of defeated delegates as follows: "If you did not get what you liked, then go home and like what you got." He is a political philosopher.

Two traveling photographers were in town Friday and Saturday and took pictures of nearly every house in town. They said they had a contract from Portland parties to furnish the plates and intimated that it was an immigration proposition.

Work was begun Wednesday on the interior of the Methodist church. The Ladies' Aid is receiving much deserved praise for its untiring efforts toward accomplishing the much needed improvements—re-papering and re-painting. They have given dinners, suppers and socials, and last but not least, an old maids' convention, to procure the necessary funds. And when the work is done it will be something which every person in town may have the benefit of if they but avail themselves of the opportunity.

The best shoes are always the cheapest. The E. M. & M. Co. handle the famous Hamilton-Brown and Buckingham & Hecht lines, the best made. A new stock just received.

He has no doubt as to the mines in that district and predicts a big rush during the summer. Everything is looking fine. He reports that a crew of surveyors are now in that locality running lines for several big companies. The boat service on Snake river he says, will soon be an accomplished fact.

Thos. Akin had been hunting his milch cow since last Thursday. On Tuesday evening Solomon Pace accidentally found her in one of the old sheds on Chas. Funk's property in the north part of town, where she had been for six days. Part of the shed had blown down and she had evidently forced her way in and was unable to get out.

The "Old Maids' Convention" given by the Methodist Ladies' Aid Society last Saturday evening, was a grand success. A large crowd was present and thoroughly enjoyed the proceedings of the Convention. After all expenses were paid the ladies had the neat sum of $40 left to be placed in the treasury of the Aid Society.
