THURSDAY, JULY 3, 1902.

At a Cabinet meeting June 27, it was agreed to issue a proclamation of amnesty for all political prisoners in the Philippines to take effect on the Fourth of July.

The canal bill that recently passed Congress, provides that if the President finds that a good title can be secured to the Panama route, construction work is to be begun.

The King.

The coronation ceremonies of King Edward VII, were suddenly terminated before hardly begun last week.

In ages past the crowning of a king has been looked upon as one of the most sacred of religious duties. It was a solemn compact engaged in between the sovereign and his people.

The regard of the English people for their sovereign is not so great as in former reigns. Prime ministers and great men of the empire often have a deeper place in the hearts of the people than the king.

But the king, after all, is not entirely a figure. He may know what his ministers propose to do, and if he chooses he may enter actively into all public transactions.

PULLMAN ORDINARY SLEEPERS.

The tourist travel between the East and the Pacific Coast has reached enormous proportions in the last few years, and calls for a special class of equipment. To meet this demand the Pullman Company has issued from its shops what it technically calls the "Pullman Ordinary Sleeper." These cars appear similar to the regular sleepers being built on the same plan, but not furnished with the same elegance. They are equipped with mattresses, blankets, sheets, pillows, pillow-cases, towels, combs, brushes, etc., requiring nothing of the kind to be furnished by the passenger. Each car has a stove for making tea and coffee and doing "light housekeeping," and each section can be fitted with an adjustable table. A uniformed porter accompanies each car, his business being to make up berths, keep the car clean, and look after the wants and comforts of the passenger. In each of the trains which a, dispatched daily from Portland by the O. R. & N. Co. is to be found one of these "Pullman Ordinary Sleepers." The car attached to the "Chicago-Portland Special" goes through to Chicago without change, and the one in the "Atlantic Express" runs to Kansas City without change. Passengers in this car for Chicago change to a similar car at Granger.

Much of the first class travel is being carried in these cars, the rates being lower, and the service nearly equal to that in the palace sleepers.

For rates and full information, including folders, write to: A. L. Craig, General Passenger Agent, O. R. & N. Co. Portland, Oregon.
