The ability of any soil in any country to grow grass very largely determines the value of the land. For wherever good grass will grow there meat may be made, and meat from now on is money.

It is expected that King Edward will be crowned sometime in August or September. Should he die before being crowned, as has been predicted, there will ever after be many followers of clairvoyance and fortune telling. Every civilized nation hopes that the King will be permitted to live and reign for many years.

Our town is soon to have one of the most substantial and up-to-date hotels, in all Eastern Oregon, which will fill the hearts of the traveling public with joy. But this is not the only requisite to the comfort of visitors. Every one enjoys a cool, comfortable place in which to sit or read. Why not improve the Public Square by planting shade trees, making traveled walks and building rustic seats? This could be enjoyed by our town's people as well as by strangers.

September is only a few weeks away, and it is to be hoped that the work on the interior of the school building will not be neglected another year. Last year the teachers took an active interest in beautifying the different rooms, with interesting pictures neatly framed, and it will not only be a disappointment to them, but to the pupils as well, if they are compelled to view for several months more the great contrast between their decorations and the dirty, smoke begrimed walls upon which they hang. "Cleanliness is next to Godliness," and there is nothing so inspiring to the pupil as a clean, homelike school room.

Tracy, the escaped Oregon convict, has left a trail of graves behind him. It is almost disgusting to those who have carefully followed the newspaper accounts of his flight, to read that day after day he is seen by many people, and is occasionally surrounded by his pursuers and yet he invariably makes his escape unhurt. Had it not been possible to have secured Tracy's assistance during our recent troubles in the Philippines, peace and quiet would have reigned months ago, because he could have exterminated the entire native population in a little while and then no doubt have had some spare time to have assisted in the tissue of Miss Stone.

Strayed or Stolen.

PULLMAN ORDINARY SLEEPERS.

The tourist travel between the East and the Pacific Coast has reached enormous proportions in the last few years, and calls for a special class of equipment. To meet this demand the Pullman Company has issued from its shops what it technically calls the "Pullman Ordinary Sleeper." These cars appear similar to the regular sleepers being built on the same plan, but not furnished with the same elegance. They are equipped with mattresses, blankets, sheets, pillows, pillow-cases, towels, combs, brushes, etc., requiring nothing of the kind to be furnished by the passenger. Each car has a stove for making tea and coffee and doing "light housekeeping," and each section can be fitted with an adjustable table. A uniformed porter accompanies each car, his business being to make up berths, keep the car clean, and look after the wants and comforts of the passenger. In each of the trains which are dispatched daily from Portland by the O. R. & N. Co. is to be found one of these "Pullman Ordinary Sleepers." The car attached to the "Chicago-Portland Special" goes through to Chicago without change, and the one in the "Atlantic Express" runs to Kansas City without change. Passengers in this car for Chicago change to a similar car at Granger.

Much of the first class travel is being carried in these cars, the rates being lower, and the service nearly equal to that in the palace sleepers. For rates and full information, including folders, write to: A. L. CRAIG, General Passenger Agent, O. R. & N. Co. Portland, Oregon.
