When a man in an official position knowingly and intentionally does things that are contrary to law equity and simple justice he should be let out, and let out quick. Register Bartlett knows that there is no show in his reappointment and has been carrying things with a high hand. The Chieftain is not the only member of the public that has complaint to make. We cite any body to a majority of the people who have business before the Land Office and we have no fear in saying that ninety per cent of them will say "put him out."

Complete Survey.

The Lewiston Tribune says—English Deagney and party and J. A. Hunsbry, secretary of the Mineral Telephone company, returned to the city yesterday having completed the survey for the telephone line from Innahna to this point. The party followed the Snake river the entire distance, and built over it. The line crosses the Snake river several times and for a distance of about ten miles iron supports driven into the banks of the river will be utilized for sustaining the wire. These supports will be located at points where it would be difficult to maintain wooden poles. H. S. Deagney is now getting out the poles at Pittsburg Landing for the line, and Contractor Brown has started work from the Innahna end in clearing the holes and drilling for the iron supports.

Mr. I. J. Merrill, of Chicago, superintendent of the new telephone company, returned Monday from a trip to the east, accompanied by his family, who will make their future home here. While on the east Mr. Merrill investigated the new lock telephone system, which will probably be utilized by the company. This system is more expensive in equipment but eliminates the necessity of a central office and is in great favor where it has been installed. Mr. Merrill states that in the electrical supplies for the new line, except the terminal equipment, has been ordered a mile estimates that the line will be completed and in operation within two months.

Mr. G. A. Nehrlund, president of the company, stated last evening that his first branch line extended from the main system would be built to Whitford and that the next extension would in all probability be to Joseph, Oregon. "The plans of the company," he said, "provide for supplying that entire region with a telephone service, and every detail of these plans is being perfected as fast as possible." Mr. Nehrlund, accompanied by George Wilkinson, will leave this morning for Enterprise, Oregon, to confer with Mr. D. C. Guernsey, who is in charge of the construction of the road to Innahna mines from the timber belt on the plateau above the river. The work on this road is now in progress.

An Under Paid Profession.

The Boston Transcript recently made the charge that teaching in general was shamefully underpaid. This is true, if good teachers are the persons considered, but this noble profession is crowded with shallow superficial folk of both sexes whose worthlessness fixes the standard of wages with an ordinary country school board. Good teaching, like good preaching is a noble, natural gift. It requires not only a creature of scholastic acquirements, but it demands a person of moral earnestness and soulful nature. The difference between a mere drill sergeant and his captain who is expected to be not only an officer but a gallant and humane gentleman is not more wide than the difference between those who are endowed with the rare and delicate powers of a true teacher and those who teach as monotonously and mechanically as they would mould a candle, turn a grindstone or weed an onion bed. The difference between a teacher that moulds and inspires young minds that come under his influence and a teacher that is a mere machine is the difference between mere scholastic memorizing, a mere appetite for compilation and the capacity for culture through intellectual digestion. There are many mechanics but few inventors; many drill-sergeants but few generals, many pedagogues but few teachers. The scholar at school will grow in spiritual and intellectual fiber if his teacher has breadth of brain, depth of love and warmth of heart. If the teacher is nothing but irreplicable mediocrity and unrelieved dullness, working for wages until he can dip into something more lucrative, he is not a teacher any more than a shyster is a lawyer, than a quack is a doctor or a clerical demagogue is a preacher. Too many teachers are either boys who use the vocation as a fallback from which to mount to a profession, or girls who will not touch an hour after marriage and have never thought seriously of teaching as a life work. The low estimate placed upon a teacher's services is not creditable to popular intelligence. A mere dull pedagogue may not be worth any more than a copying clerk, but every good teacher needs the spirit of Dr. Arnold rather than any profane scholarship in order to make him a blessed formative influence to the moral and intellectual character of his pupils. The teacher that turns out the most genuine men and women is the best teacher. His boys are not bores, arrogant fools or dissolute knaves; his girls are not pedantic prudes nor vulgar parrots with a parrot's stride. Such teachers are only obtained and retained when the noble calling of a teacher is socially elevated as it is in Germany not degraded in public opinion, and the teacher is paid for his services upon a scale that would justify his making the training of youth a life work.—Oregonian.

PULLMAN ORDINARY SLEEPERS.

The tourist travel between the East and the Pacific Coast has reached enormous proportions in the last few years, and calls for a special class of equipment. To meet this demand the Pullman Company has issued from its shops what it technically calls the "Pullman Ordinary Sleeper." These cars appear similar to the regular sleepers being built on the same plan, but not furnished with the same elegance. They are equipped with mattresses, blankets, sheets, pillows, pillow-cases, towels, combs, brushes, etc., requiring nothing of the kind to be furnished by the passenger. Each car has a stove for making tea and coffee and doing "light housekeeping," and each section can be fitted with an adjustable table. A uniformed porter accompanies each car, his business being to make up berths, sweep the car clean, and look after the wants and comforts of the passenger. In each of the trains which are dispatched daily from Portland by the O. R. & N. Co. is to be found one of these "Pullman Ordinary Sleepers." The car attached to the "Chicago-Portland Special" goes through to Chicago without change, and the one in the "Atlantic Express" runs to Kansas City without change. Passengers in this car for Chicago change to a similar car at Granger.

Much of the first class travel is being carried in these cars, the rates being lower, and the service nearly equal to that in the palace sleepers.
