

Artisan Craft Fair & Demonstrations

#1. GRETCHEN BASS: Gretchen's comfortable and cozy fleece travel pillows and pillow cases are offered in a wide variety of patterns, colors and sizes. The perfect gift for the traveler or sports fan in your life.

#2. LYNN'S DESIGNER APRONS: Lynn Kelly has over 60-plus styles of new, reproduction aprons from the 1920s to 1960s plus some classy headwear. If you are looking for that apron that grandma, mom or you wore "back in the days," this display is the place to go.

#3. HANDWOVEN BY JANE: Jane Opiat weaves her hand-crafted creations on a small loom that she will have on display. Warm wraps, scarves and woven throw blankets are featured in this booth filled with threaded color.

#4. RHODO QUILT GUILD: A group of ladies who love quilting and getting to know other ladies in the community who share their enthusiasm. They welcome anybody who would like to join the guild and learn a new skill. This year the Quilt Guild will show and raffle a handmade quilt during the auction to benefit Florence Food Share and Backpacks for Kids.

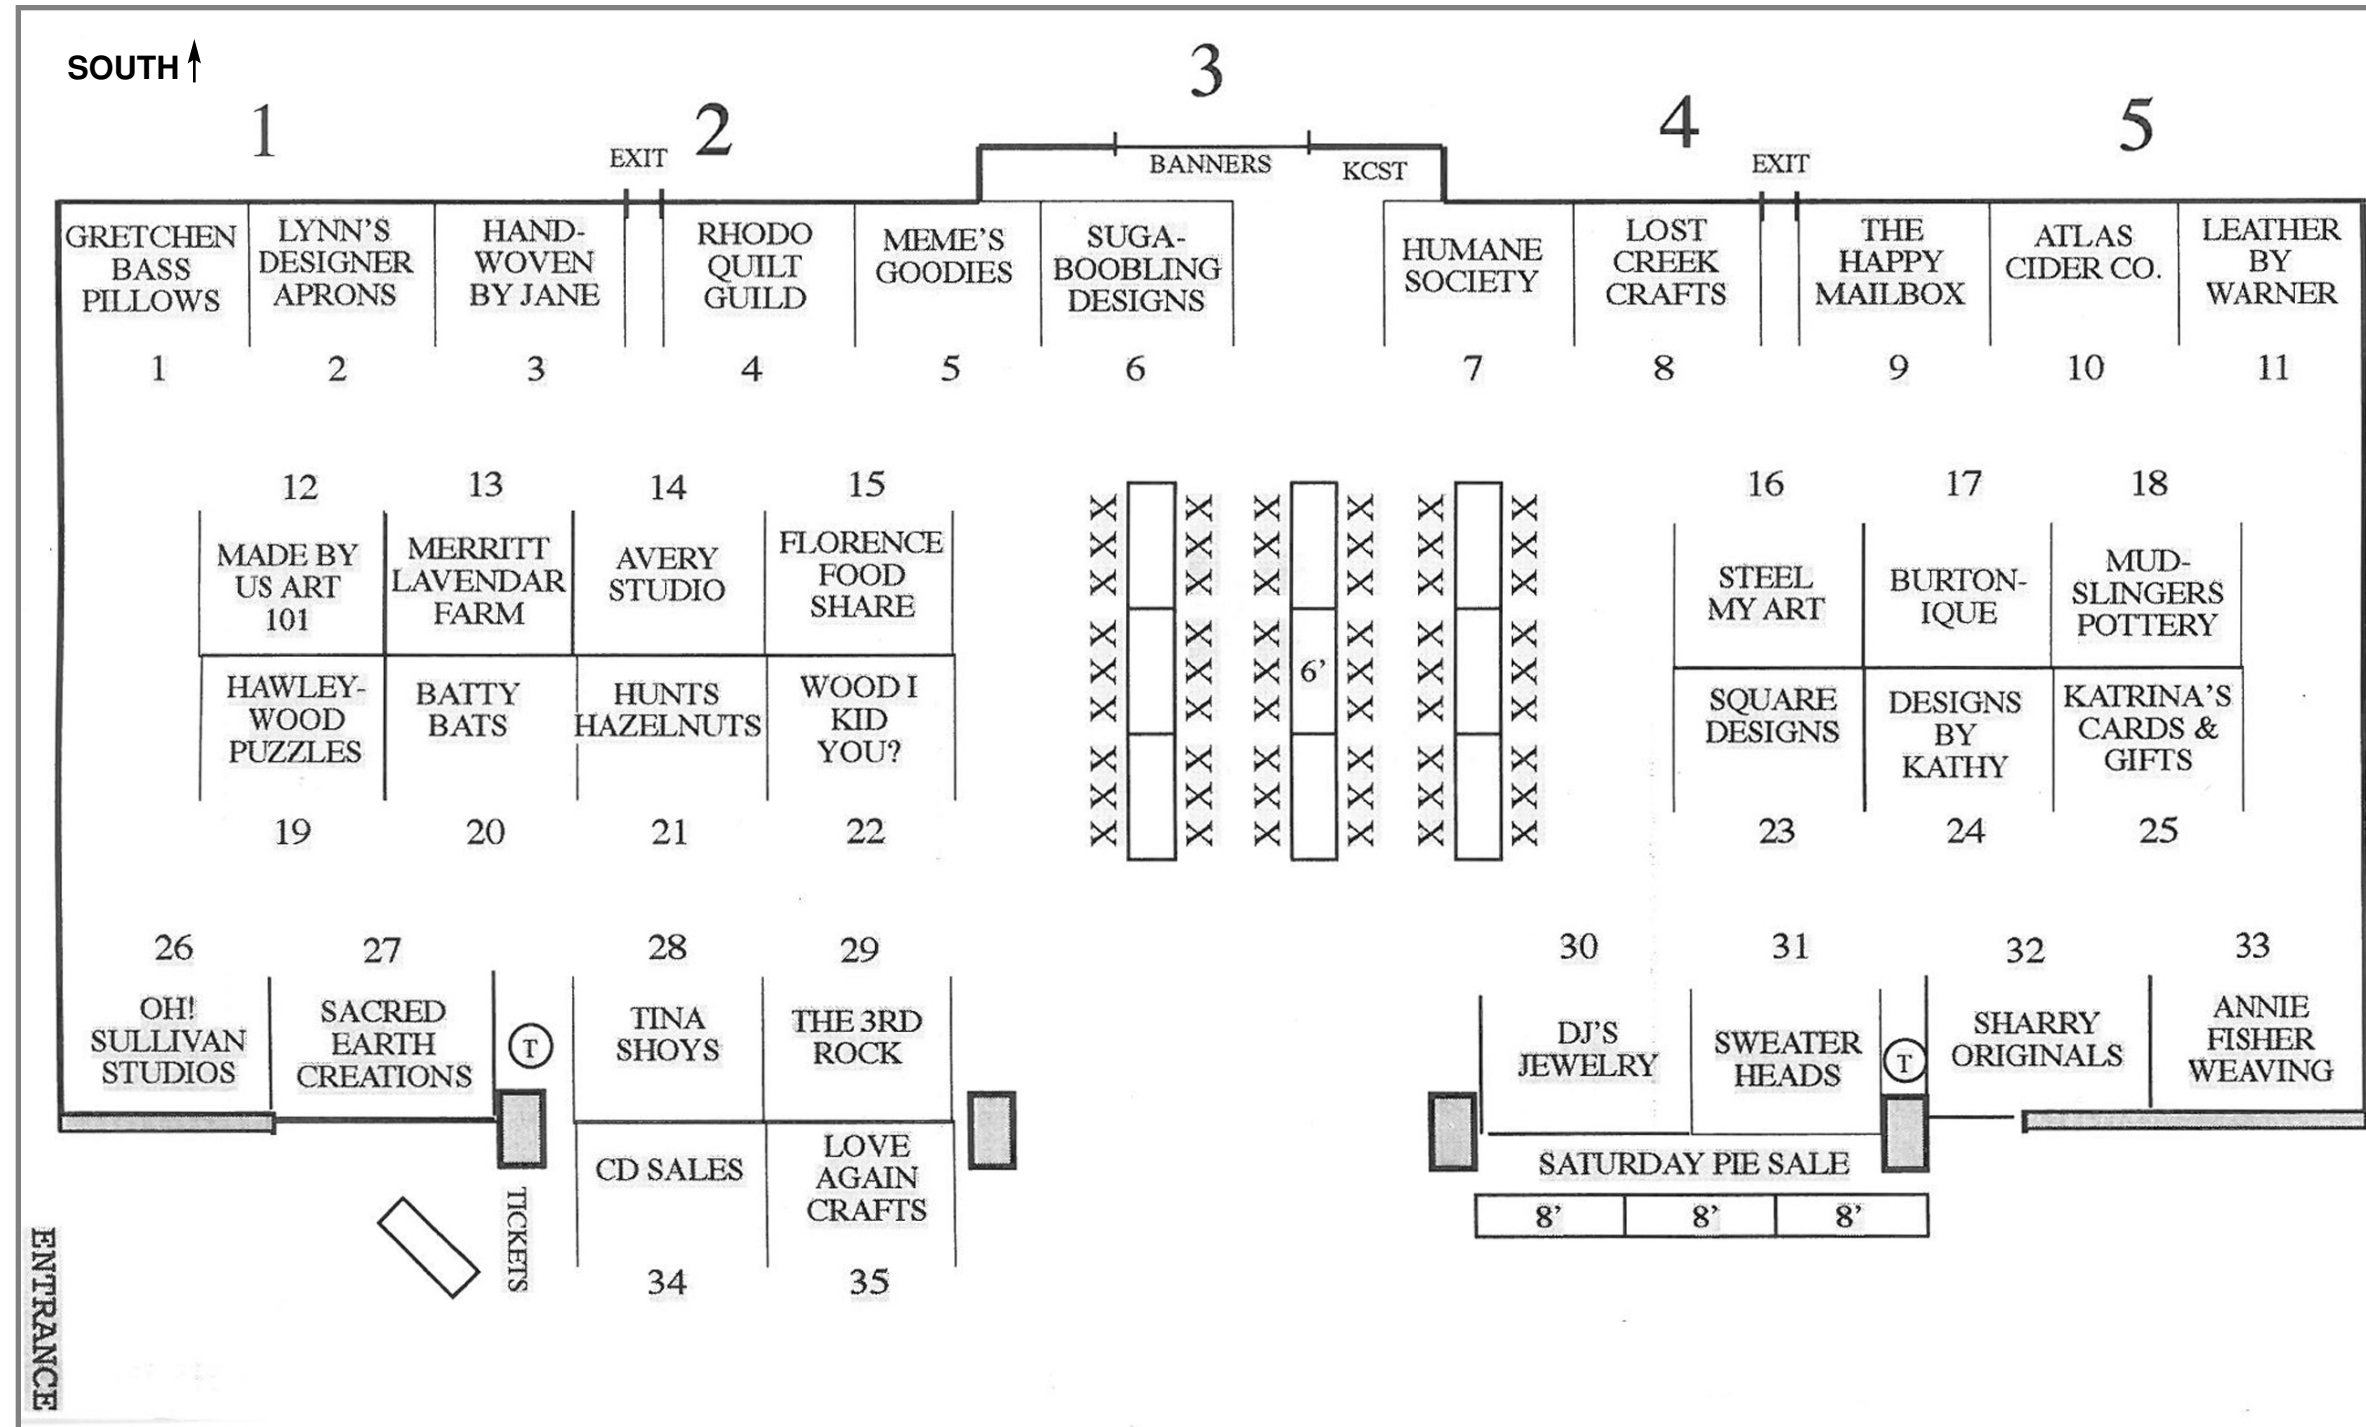

#5. MEEMEE'S GOODIES: This booth features small batch artisan jams made in Beaverton. They hand select the best produce from the local farmer's markets for the freshest taste. Simple ingredients; fruit, sugar and pectin, are all that are needed for a bright and delicious spread. Simply Made. Simply Good.

#6. SUGABOUBLING DESIGNS: Cute, one-of-a-kind and clever are words to describe the fun hats, scarves and do-dads that are found in this booth. Diana White designs and creates knitwear for comfort, warmth, versatility and filled with 100 percent love. Have a great time going through all the possibilities of knitted objects.

#7. FLORENCE AREA HUMANE SOCIETY: FAHS is a non-profit, no-kill animal shelter serving the people and animals of the Florence area. They rely solely on the donations of the community and receive no government assistance. They are grateful for the generosity of donors and the dedication of their many volunteers.

#8. LOST CREEK CRAFTS: Indoor and outdoor delights will be found at Cathi Block and Jill Johnson's place. Besides critters and birdhouses, there are many mosaic tiled items to be found — just waiting for the perfect spot in your home.

#9. THE HAPPY MAILBOX: Jodie Edmond has a variety of knitted goodies; including zipper flowers, an assortment of hats and a large array of knitted hair decorations. The Happy Mailbox also has skeins of Willamette Valley wool for the knitting enthusiast.

#10. ATLAS HARD CIDER: Have a taste of the sweet cutting edge of the cider craze. This Bend, Ore.-based company makes a delicious hand-crafted hard cider for adults. Stop by their booth for free hard cider samples and pick up a bottle of Atlas Cider to take home.

#11. LEATHER BY WARNER: Edgar and Phyllis Warner host a booth with hand-crafted leatherworks which include western-style decorations as well as leather saddles in a range of sizes.

#12. MADE BY US — ART 101: Glenna Kimball fashions clothes from upcycled sweaters and wool felt. You're sure to find a warm and cuddly handcrafted garment to wear this winter.

#13. MERRITT LAVENDER FARM: This small lavender business is a sustainable working farm. They take pride in creating natural bath & body, culinary and pet products from sustainably grown lavender. Books written by the lavender lady feature a cookbook, a growing guide which includes product making tips and a travel mystery. Take home a beautifully scented gift today!

#14. AVERY STUDIO: Linda and Larry Avery create exquisitely detailed handbags and belts of leather. Functional art that is made to last.

#15. FLORENCE FOOD SHARE EMPTY BOWLS: Handmade pottery bowls by local artisans. All proceeds from the sale of pottery bowls donated by these local artists will benefit Florence Food Share.

#16. LES AND DIANA RASMUSSEN: A husband and wife business based in Sams Valley Oregon - Steel My Art was born out of an iron construction business. They create signs, metal art and found object sculptures. They have perfected the art of taking something old and rusty and turning it into something beautiful, whimsical or fun. Steel My Art will bring a smile to your face.

#17. BURTONIQUE: This booth has a large supply of prints of original oils and photography that would brighten any home. Burtonique also makes wooden items such as driftwood mirrors and wall hangings.
