

KB Gallery features 2-day impressionist workshops through April

F. Michael Wood, nationally recognized for his impressionistic oil paintings, is scheduled to give a series of two-day workshops at the Kenneth B

Gallery in Old Town Florence on the last weekend of each month, February through April. The workshops will be from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Cost will be $195, with a 20 percent discount on lodging if accommodations are booked directly through the gallery. In this workshop, Wood will introduce his holistic approach to impressionistic painting, in which students learn to see and paint form and mass directly and quickly in order to enhance their own artistic instincts.

This method instills confidence for an artist to use the tools required to complete a painting, regardless of subject.

For this workshop, attendees may use either oil or water-based oil paints.

Wood will demonstrate a full range of subject matter — including portrait, seascape, landscape and still life techniques. Each participant will focus upon a single subject for the entire session.

There is a minimum of eight and maximum of 15 attendees required for each two-day workshop.

Wood is represented by the Kenneth B Gallery, Christopher

“Golden Opportunity” painting by F. Michael Wood

Queen Galleries, in Duncan Mills, Calif., and the Garden Gallery in Half Moon Bay, Calif.

His paintings are collected both nationally and internationally and his work is regularly juried into the prestigious Salon International Exhibition, as well as other national exhibitions, including the Oil Painters of America annual Salon.

His professional memberships include signature status with Oil Painters of America, and an associate status with the American Impressionist Society.

PeaceHealth to host women’s Heart to Heart

Peace Harbor Medical Center will host the eighth annual women’s health event “Every woman tell a woman” on Saturday, Feb. 28, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., at the Florence Events Center.

The program will feature a variety of overall health information to help women understand and manage health conditions facing them today.

Although there are genetic risks for many diseases, some risks can be overcome by following key preventive steps.

Speakers include Dr. Fran Munkenbeck, cardiologist at Oregon Heart and Vascular Institute (OHVI); Nancy Graham, registered dietician and cardiovascular wellness and rehabilitation coordinator at PeaceHealth Sacred Heart

Medical Center and Dr. Aaron Holmes, primary care provider at PeaceHealth Medical Group in Florence.

Ladies will enjoy a heart-healthy lunch while being entertained by the light-hearted “Cardiac Comedian,” Frank King.

King is an award-winning, syndicated humor columnist and radio talk show personality who was a finalist on the Original Star Search with Ed McMahon.

He has opened for numerous celebrities, but was recently opened up himself — by a team of cardiac surgeons at the OHVI, who performed an aortic valve replacement (his second) and a double bypass (his first).

Numerous exhibits, free massage, tastings, demonstrations and learning activities will be available throughout the morning, providing attendees with opportunities to explore options, ask questions and gain knowledge about many of the serious health issues facing women today.

“Our focus is to provide the best experience possible for attendees,” said Kat Rannow, senior communications specialist for PeaceHealth Peace Harbor Medical Center.

“Addressing issues that are important to women, while giving them the opportunity to laugh and live it up a bit are the goals of everyone involved.”

Admission is $10, but space is limited. Register by Feb. 21.

Call 541-902-6300 ext. 2261 to register.
