Siuslaw Surfriders to host information meeting

The Siuslaw Chapter of the Surfrider Foundation covers the Florence region.

The chapter's work is focused on protecting and testing water quality, organizing quarterly beach cleanups, running monthly marine debris monitoring programs, and developing education and stewardship activities related to the recently established Cape Perpetua Marine Reserve.

The Surfriders is a group that loves its ocean, rivers, dunes, forests, waves and beaches.

For those who want to get involved, come to the Tuesday, Feb. 10, meeting at 6:30 p.m.

The Surfriders' next public meeting will be at the Kenneth

B Gallery, 1458 First St., in Old Town. Learn about open volunteer positions within the Siuslaw Surfrider infrastructure.

Light appetizers will be provided along with a free raffle.

Become a member of the chapter's executive committee.

The chapter is currently seeking interested members who want to be involved with the leadership and development of its programs and events.

Beach in a Bag memberships will be available for $25.

The following positions are available: Chairman, secretary, cleanup coordinator and treasurer.

Oregon Coast Aquarium to offer teens an ocean of summer fun

NEWPORT — The Oregon Coast Aquarium is offering teens a journey of discovery. Speaking on behalf of animals and their environments is no simple task, which is why the aquarium is currently recruiting future youth volunteers for a free six-weekend crash course on the coastal and marine sciences of Oregon.

Participants will go on whale-watching expeditions, outdoor adventures and learn important skills like deploying a life raft and putting on survival suits.

After a summer learning through teaching, many youth volunteers choose to continue their service throughout the school year. They team up with aquarium staff to develop their own ocean advocacy initiative to help teach their peers and aquarium visitors about marine conservation.

The aquarium's youth volunteers will carry environmental awareness and stewardship they develop for the rest of their lives.

To complete an application for the aquarium's volunteer teams, visit www.aquarium.org.

Sailors

from 1B

in through the first three quarters.

"Chris dominated the paint," Crook said of Free, who finished with a team-high nine rebounds to go with his three steals and three blocked shots.

Free also scored all eight of his points in the first half.

"That really gave us momentum," said Crook. "I was very proud of our aggressiveness and stingy team defense."

It was a measurable improvement from the last time the teams faced off, with Alsea's Micah DeWolfe scoring 30 points in that first meeting. This time, DeWolfe was held to just 12 points.

Hardisty led the Sailors with 15 points, four rebounds and two steals. Ford had 14 points, eight rebounds and three steals. Free had eight points, nine rebounds, three steals and three blocks.

Simington had four points, six rebounds and a pair of steals. Collins had two points, four rebounds and two steals.

Freshman forward Dominic Wells had two points and two rebounds, with sophomore guard Tyler Packebush nabbing one rebound and a steal against the Wolverines.

Last night, Mapleton was on the road at Eddyville (after press deadlines). Friday, the Sailors will be at home to host Mohawk, beginning at 6 p.m.
