

SIXTH ANNUAL 'COOL AT THE COAST' KICKS OFF

Rotary's "Cool at the Coast" golf tournament doubled the number of available sponsorships this year by adding green sponsorships in addition to the usual tee sponsorships. Even with that increase, sponsorships for tees, greens and related events almost sold out at the kickoff.

Only three greens remained unsponsored at the end of the first day.

Major sponsors for the sixth annual tournament include Three Rivers Casino Resort, Ocean Dunes Golf Links, PeaceHealth, Oregon Pacific Bank, Sea Lion Caves, ServPro of South Eugene and Florence.

Three Rivers, Ocean Dunes, PeaceHealth and Oregon Pacific Bank have been major sponsors since the tournament began, according to tournament co-chair Deb Lamb.

This year's tee sponsors are:

Flowers by Bobbi, 1285 Restobar, Habitat for Humanity, Carrollton Designs, Michael and Nancy Pearson, Peace Harbor Medical Center, Best for Hearing, Brian Holmes, DMD and Justin Linton, DDS, First American Title Company of Oregon, Oregon Pacific Bank, Banner Bank, Justin Linton, DDS, The Siuslaw News, Dick and Harriet Smith, Janet Huston, On Your Feet with a Splash, Tammy Butler, and Del Phelps/Berkshire Hathaway Northwest Properties.

Green sponsors include: Port of Siuslaw, Johnston Motors, Justin Linton, DDS, Carpet Cleaning Solutions, Phil and Bobbi Brubaker, Flowers by Bobbi, KCST-Coast Radio, Bob Forsythe and Cindy Cable, Kitchen Klutter, Oregon Pacific Bank Trust & Wealth Management, Heceta Self Storage, Hoberg's Complete

Auto Repair, Lane Community College/Florence, Crossroads Church, and Relay for Life.

Longest drive prizes for men and women are sponsored by 101 Things to Do in Western and Coastal Oregon.

Most accurate drive prizes for men and women are sponsored by Dale Edwards, Laurel Bay Gardens and Sharry Fitzgerald.

Course transportation during the tournament will be provided by Florence Yamaha.

Closest to the pin prizes on the par-3 holes are sponsored by City Lights Cinema, On Your Feet with a Splash, Maple Street Grille, River House Inn, and Old Town Inn.

The chipping and putting contest prize is sponsored by the Law Offices of Jane Hanawalt.

The $5,000 putt is sponsored by Ron and Catherine Green. Hot dogs on the course will be provided by State Farm-Sue Gilday Agency.

"After five successful years, this has become a high profile tournament, not just in Florence but throughout the region," says co-chairman Craig Sanders. "Sponsors are anxious to be involved, not only because it's for a great cause, End Polio Now, but also because... everyone has a great time."

The sixth annual Cool at the Coast happens at Ocean Dunes Golf Links on Saturday, Aug. 1.

Registration forms are available at Ocean Dunes Golf Links.

Halibut fishery closed at Columbia basin

NEWPORT — The Pacific halibut all-depth sport fishery in the Columbia River Subarea closed Wednesday, June 3.

The spring fishery from Leadbetter Point in Washington to Cape Falcon in Oregon opened May 1 and was scheduled to be open every Thursday-Sunday through Sept. 30 or the harvest of 9,754 pounds of Pacific halibut, whichever came first.

The all-depth fishery was scheduled to open again this Thursday, but preliminary estimates indicate that landings are nearing the quota and not enough remains for any additional open days. The season is now closed until the end of the year. Effort in the Columbia River Subarea in 2015 was higher than in recent years and catch rates were good, enabling anglers to harvest the entire quota for this fishery for the first time since 2011.

The Columbia River nearshore fishery (inside the 40-fathom line off of Oregon) remains open Mondays through Wednesdays until Sept. 30 or until the quota of 500 pounds is reached, whichever comes first.

Opportunities to fish for Pacific halibut remain open in other areas of Oregon:

Off central Oregon between Cape Falcon (near Manzanita)

and Humbug Mountain (near Port Orford), anglers may fish for halibut inside the 40-fathom line beginning July 1, seven days a week through Oct. 31 or attainment of the harvest quota for that fishery.

The all-depth halibut fishery off central Oregon is scheduled to be open June 11-13 and June 25-27. A second summer season is scheduled to begin in August.

The high-relief area of Stonewall Bank, west of Newport, is closed to all halibut fishing.

The area between Humbug Mountain and the Ore./Calif. border is open at all depths for Pacific halibut seven days a week through Oct. 31 or until the quota of 7,318 pounds has been met, whichever comes first.

Days on which Pacific halibut fishing is open will be announced on the NOAA Fisheries hotline (1-800-662-9825) and posted on the ODFW Marine Resources Program website at www.dfw.state.or.us/MRP.

Meet Kip
I've been a couch potato for a while but that's going to change. My New Years resolution is to eat better (and less) and get more exercise. With my goal of becoming a lap dog, I think I can keep it. I am house broken, up to date on vaccinations, microchipped and will come to you with freshly cleaned teeth. With your help I will keep this New Years resolution.

If you would like to meet Kip or any of his friends, please visit us at:
