

Planes, cars and more to be at this year's Wings, Wheels

The sixth annual Wings and Wheels aircraft fly-in and car show will be Saturday, July 4, at the Florence Municipal Airport.

The event is produced by the Florence-Siuslaw Lions Club and will feature nearly 20 local organizations, including the Florence Radio Controlled aircraft club, which will be flying throughout the day; The Florence Police Department; CERT; The Siuslaw Valley Fire and Rescue fire apparatus; the Central Oregon Coast British Car Club; the Central Oregon Military Vehicle Group and many more.

New this year will be a performance by The Old Time Fiddlers, along with two performances by the Florence Dance Guild. There will also be DJ music all day.

The Florence-Siuslaw Lions Club and the Ada Grange will be providing food throughout the day.

The Lions Club will be selling raffle tickets to support their scholarship fund with nearly $3,000 worth of items to be raffled off.

For the first time, commemorative t-shirts will be for sale by the Lions.

Gates will open at 10 a.m. and a donation of $2 per carload will be asked at the gate, with plenty of parking provided onsite at the airport. Members of the Siuslaw High School wrestling team will be parking cars and will receive the proceeds from the donations collected.

Trophies will be handed out for the car show beginning at 2:30 p.m. The show will close at 3 p.m., or following the final trophy presentation.

Several antique and classic aircraft are expected to be on hand, weather permitting.

Nearly 100 classic cars and trucks from throughout the Northwest are expected to participate.

Country music show opens today

"Who's Gonna Fill Their Shoes?" cast members include Mike Jacobson, Denise Dee, Marty Adams, Nancy Pearson and Doug Bushwar.

If you enjoyed last summer's tribute to the Ink Spots called "If I Didn't Care," then you are sure to enjoy Mike Jacobson's newest offering, "Who's Gonna Fill Their Shoes?"

Billed as a "classic country music retrospective with over 45 hits," this summer's first production at the Florence Playhouse features the music of such country music icons as Hank Williams Sr., Patsy Cline, Marty Robbins, Kitty Wells, Johnny Cash, June Carter Cash, Roy Orbison, Dottie West, George Jones, Tammy Wynette, Ernest Tubbs, Conway Twitty and several others. The memorable music of these country music greats is bound to set your feet a-tappin' and your heart a-soarin'.

Marty Adams will once again tickle the ivories as both the musical director and arranger, and Mike Jacobson will once again direct the show.

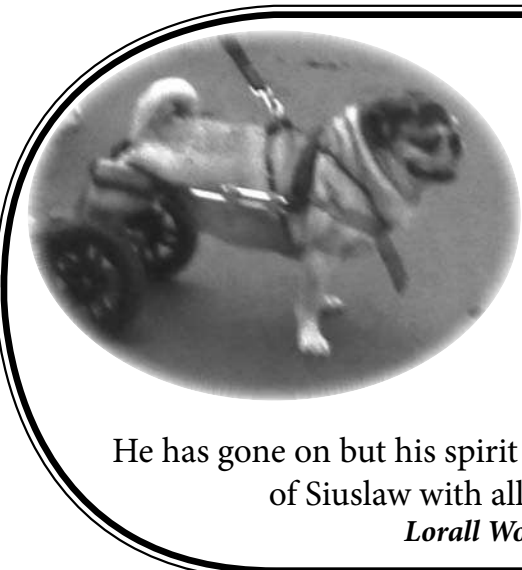

"Who's Gonna Fill Their Shoes?" features the vocal talents of Nancy Pearson, who many will remember from her portrayal of Patsy Cline in "Always, Patsy" from a few summers ago; Denise Dee, who many would swear was Tammy Wynette reincarnated when she does "Stand By Your Man"; Jacobson, who wrote and directed last season's "If I Didn't Care" as well as this year's offering; and newcomer Doug Bushwar, whose guitar artistry and vocal talents are deservedly respected.

The show also features the formidable keyboard artistry and vocal excellence of Marty Adams, Florence's favorite musician.

"Who's Gonna Fill Their Shoes?" runs for two weekends, kicking off what promises to be one of the Florence Playhouses most exciting seasons.

Show times are today and June 27, and July 3 and 4 at 7 p.m., with 2 p.m. Sunday matinees on June 28 and July 5. For tickets, call the Florence Playhouse at 541-997-1675, or visit www.florenceplayhouse.com.

The Pug in the Wheelchair
Our family would like to thank the community of Florence and the many people who knew Hot-Rod, who would stop and pet the little guy, ask questions about his story, even where to stay and eat. Thank you for showing Hot-Rod so much love. You made his life perfect with Peggy-Sue.

He has gone on but his spirit is still walking Old Town and the Port of Siuslaw with all his friends (he had many).
