BeauxArts hosts open house, After Hours Thursday

Everyone is invited to BeauxArts Fine Art Materials and Gallery for an open house and Chamber After Hours event Thursday, Aug. 6, from 5:30 to 7 p.m.

BeauxArts will be providing refreshments, prizes and special surprises for guests.

This event will provide an opportunity to connect with fellow community members, business leaders and fellow patrons and creators of art.

Not having, or running out of, a certain art material or supply can ruin a project by interrupting an artist's flow.

BeauxArts wants to make sure local artists get the supplies they need, when they need them. BeauxArts has a wide network of suppliers to help provide the materials artists need.

BeauxArts is also a resource for project ideas, inspiration, how-tos, new materials and a contact for what art events are happening in the area.

BeauxArts is a family-run and locally owned business.

Jazz Septet concert benefits Habitat for Humanity

In a musical event sponsored and directed by Robin DeVour, come connect with and enjoy the wonderful sounds of the Pacific Jazz Septet benefit concert Sunday, Aug. 16, at the Florence Events Center.

In addition to the septet, the concert will feature vocalist Denise Dee. This benefit concert is sponsored and directed by DeVour, and originals and arrangements are also by DeVour.

All proceeds from the concert go to Florence Habitat for Humanity to build houses.

Habitat for Humanity was founded in 1976 to eliminate poverty housing in the world.

Heading up the rhythm section will be DeVour on keyboard. DeVour was interested in music early, playing accordion and being paid for it, before he was 10.

Educated at Occidental College where he majored in music composition, DeVour performed USO Christmas shows in Alaska and Korea. After graduation, he served in the U.S. Navy from 1953 to 1957. He spent a year at the Navy School of Music near Washington D.C. and was sent to Naples, where he played with the NATO band.

Subsequently, he was transferred for 18 months to Guantanamo Bay, where he learned Spanish and played with Cuban musicians learning Latin rhythms.

Receiving a master's degree, his thesis was about the psychology of music. Afterward, DeVour taught music classes at the college level. He received his doctorate in clinical psychology. Although he worked in a state mental hospital for several years, his increasing difficulty with blindness led him to private practice.

Although he continued his interest in music, he retired from his clinical work at age 70. Currently, he is involved with the Pacific Jazz Septet.

Mike Swain began playing drums in elementary school and continued his drum studies through junior college. Among his teachers was the renowned jazz drummer Philly Joe Jones, with whom he studied in Los Angeles, Calif.

After moving to Florence some years ago, Swain played with the Oregon Coast Chamber Orchestra, and currently with the Pacific Jazz Septet.

The bass will be played by BRSK — and yes, that is the name he uses. BSRK is a composer and multi-instrumentalist hailing from the Pacific Northwest. BSRK began his professional career as a studio and touring musician.

Guitarist Ed Petry has contributed arrangements to the Pacific Jazz Septet book and will round out the rhythm section.

A gifted musician on all saxophones, Lou Invernon presently plays alto with Pacific Jazz Ensemble and is a conductor of the Pacific Coast Wind Ensemble. He also plays clarinet in Oregon Coast Chamber Orchestra.

Invernon has backed renown talents Johnny Mathis, Ray Charles, Wayne Newton, Nancy Wilson, Gladys Knight and the Pips, and a host of others well-known performers.

Virgil Walkely taught school and retired to Florence, where he contributes as trombonist and vocalist.

Chris Rowbotham was educated in the music department of the University of Oregon. He was active on the Eugene music scene, and at present teaches instrumental music in the Siuslaw School District.

He is an accomplished soloist and improviser.

The concert will be held at the Florence Events Center, located at 715 Quince St., starting at 2 p.m. Tickets are $15 and can be purchased at the Florence Events Center box office, or online at www.eventscenter.org.

For more information call the Habitat for Humanity office at 541-902-9227.

Florence City Wide Garage Sale

September 11-13, 2015

presented by the Florence Area Chamber of Commerce

How To Participate

The fee to participate is $15. An ad for the City Wide Garage Sale with a map of all participation sales will be published in the Siuslaw News on September 9th and 12th. The event will also be listed on several yard sale websites. Because of print deadlines, the registration deadline is 5pm September 2nd.

You will also receive two official City Wide Garage Sale signs as well as a tip sheet on how to have a great sale. Please post signs only on private property with the owner's consent. Posting signs on City utility poles, street or signal light poles, and median strips is against the municipal code.

Additional maps will be available at the Florence Visitors Center, Siuslaw News, Banner Bank, Laurel Bay Gardens and Mon Ami.
