NICOTERA—Kathleen Mary Heeter-Nicotera, 75, from Waikiki, Honolulu,

Kathleen Nicotera

Hawaii, passed away July 22, 2015, after a long bout with bone cancer.

Kathleen was born July 16, 1940, in Fairfax, Minn., to John and Eleanor (Johnson) Maxwell.

When she was 17 years old, Kathleen and her parents moved to Lisbon, N.D., where she finished high school. She attended college at the University of Minnesota in Minneapolis.

In 1964 she relocated to Lake of the Ozarks, Mo.

From there, in 1968, she and her then husband, Van Heeter, moved to Florence, where they purchased a small roadside cafe on Highway 101.

Over the next 15 years, they transformed the business into a large and successful award-winning restaurant known as The Windward Inn, which became an integral part of the community.

A banquet room was proudly named "The Maxwell Room."

After selling the inn, Kathleen relocated to Honolulu. She became a resident of Waikiki, living on the scenic Ala Wai Canal. She treasured her next 32 years living on the island she loved so much, taking delight in the local cultures, music and the Aloha spirit that she adored.

She met and married Mario Nicotera, a captain in the U.S. Army, who passed away Nov. 13, 1998.

Her final years were spent married to James Coffey, a major in the U.S. Air Force, who passed away Feb. 4, 2015.

Kathleen is survived by her five nieces and nephews: Janel, Jeffrey, Julie, James and Jill.

She was preceded in death by her parents and her brothers

Dennis Maxwell and James Gordon Maxwell.

She is inurned along with Mario Nicotera at the beautiful National Memorial Cemetery of the Pacific, located on top of the "Punchbowl."

Kathleen will be greatly missed by her family and friends.

Oregon police conduct seatbelt 'blitz'

Oregon State Police, Lane County Sheriff's Office and local police will be working to increase proper safety belt and child car seat use during a statewide traffic enforcement "blitz" from Monday, Aug. 24 through Sunday, Sept. 6. Officers will also be on the alert for persons exceeding the posted speed limit or violating the "hands-free" cellphone law.

This enhanced enforcement is paid from dedicated funding through the U.S. Department of Transportation's National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

Statewide observation surveys in June 2015 found 98 percent of Oregon travelers routinely use safety belts or child car seats. Not surprisingly, belt use was lower among persons killed in crashes; 75 percent among all crash fatalities and only 50 percent among persons killed in nighttime crashes, according to Oregon Department of Transportation reports.

Motor vehicle crashes are the leading cause of death for children ages one through twelve years old. Child car seats reduce the likelihood of being killed in a crash by up to 59 percent for toddlers aged 1 to 4 years old.

Safety belts reduce the chance of fatal injury to adults by 45 to 65 percent.

Properly using safety belts and child restraints holds a person safely in place and inside the vehicle to prevent injury from occurring during sudden stops, swerves or a crash.

Without a safety belt or child car seat, occupants can be thrown against each other, the interior of the car or completely out of the vehicle which greatly increases chances of serious injury.

Oregon law requires children less than 40 pounds be restrained in a child seat.

Children under one year or weighing less than twenty pounds must be restrained in a rear-facing child seat.

A child over 40 pounds must be restrained in either a child seat or a booster seat appropriate for their size until they reach age 8 or 4'9" tall AND the adult belt system fits them correctly.

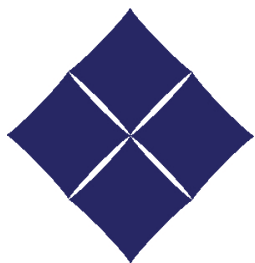

For help with child car seats, refer to the seat manufacturer's instructions, vehicle owner's manual, or visit your local child seat fitting station.

A list of fitting stations can be found at www.oregonimpact.org/car-seat-resources or at www.nhtsa.gov/apps/cps/index.htm.
