

THE RECORD

Sutton area waterline upgrades begin

Those who live in the North Sutton Lake area are probably aware of work going on in the neighborhood.

After several years of finance negotiations and environmental clearances, Heceta Water People's Utility District was able to start work on five waterline upgrade projects.

The purpose of these projects is to replace vulnerable water mains that are aging and are in environmentally sensitive areas.

Ray Wells, Inc., of Florence, was hired as the contractor.

Crews are utilizing temporary wooden crane mats to allow equipment to move on marshy areas.

This is part of Heceta Water People's Utility District Project 3, which is to construct a new waterline — approximately 1,020 lineal feet of 10-inch water line — from Sutton Lake Road and across Rath Creek Marsh to Leverage Drive.

The new lines that are being put in have a much longer service life than the older lines now being replaced.
