Pocahontas Puzzle

You may have heard the legend of Pocahontas. But is it true?
 Today's Kid Scoop page explores fact and opinion.

Underline the differences in each version of the Pocahontas story.

Can you tell fact from opinion?

Sure! It's a FACT that I'm really hungry!

Hey! I saw this worm first!

That's your opinion! The fact is, there is one worm and two of us here.

That's your opinion! The FACT is, I'm out of here!

The Legend of POCAHONTAS

Pocahontas was the favored daughter of a powerful Indian chief called Powhatan.

When Pocahontas was about 10 or 11 years old, an English company called the Virginia Company of London sailed to North America, arriving in the Chesapeake Bay area, close to where Pocahontas lived.

The Englishmen built a fort there and called it Jamestown, after the king of England.

Some stories say that when the settlers ran out of food, Pocahontas helped them. The most well known story says that when Captain John Smith, a leader of the Jamestown settlement, visited with Powhatan, he was asked to lay on two rocks. Once he lay down, Powhatan's men raised clubs as if to kill him. Pocahontas, the legend claims, saved his life by covering him with her own body.

Powhatan Chief Tells Pocahontas Story

"Part of the legend is true and part of it is not," says Chief Roy Crazy Horse, leader of the Powhatan people today.

"Pocahontas was the daughter of a chief named Powhatan. She was about 10 or 11 years of age when the Virginia Company of London started the settlement of Jamestown.

"But," he adds, "the story about Pocahontas saving Captain Smith from being clubbed by Powhatan's men is not true. In fact, right after his visit with Powhatan, Smith wrote that he had been treated in a friendly fashion as an honored guest.

"Captain John Smith wrote the story about Pocahontas saving his life in a report he wrote 17 years after the event was supposed to have happened," says the chief. "In fact, Smith wrote this report seven years after Pocahontas herself died. So there was no way for her to contradict the story."

Kid Scoop Together: CODEBREAKER CHALLENGE

The English language in North America has adopted words from other languages. Many words come from European tongues. We've also borrowed words from the first Americans.

Break the code and learn about some Native American words spoken by North Americans today.

Look at the letters that spell the word above each definition. On the line above each letter, write the letter that precedes it in the alphabet.

EXAMPLE: HOUSE
I P V T F

S B D D P P O

A small mammal with a long tail, black rings and a pointed face sporting black markings like a mask.

Q P E V O L

A small isolated town, region, or place regarded as unimportant.

U P C P H H B O

A long, narrow wooden sled that curves up in the front.

T R V B T I

A fruit that grows on a vine and comes in many shapes, sizes and colors.

Q F D B O

A nut with a thin, smooth, oval shell.

Fact Sniffer

An opinion tells what someone thinks or feels about something. Different people can have different opinions about the same thing. For example, if two baseball teams play each other, the score tells a fact about the game. Let's say one team gets 5 points and the other gets 3 points. One team might say it was a good game and the other team might say it was a bad game. "Good" and "bad" are opinions about that game.

Standards Link: Comprehension: Distinguish between facts and opinions.

Look at the following statements. Underline the facts and circle the opinions.

- The mountain is 8,432 feet high.
- The mountain is beautiful.
- I have six cookies.
- The dog is 8 years old.
- Tina is popular.
- The dog is weird.
- Tina has five friends.
- These cookies are good.
