The book is written on the premise: If you want to do something, you'll find a way. If not you'll find an excuse. It's been my motto for years. "Ya gotta wanna."

"This first book is an adaptation of a contest winning Toastmaster's speech. Putting the words into writing was highly encouraged by the club and visitors."

"Kirkpatrick exercises her considerable gift for making history come alive."

—Publishers Weekly

New York Times bestselling novelist, Jane Kirkpatrick, weaves the dramatic story of a freed slave who must find a way to survive in the wilderness of the Oregon Territory.

"Jane Kirkpatrick puts flesh and blood on the bones of history. Set against an authentic nineteenth-century background, this is a superb story of a woman's struggle to triumph over time and place. . . . A memorable book."

—SANDRA DALLAS, New York Times bestselling author
