

Quattrosound outreach program moved to library

SEACOAST Entertainment Association's first free community enrichment event for the 2015-16 season has been moved from Siuslaw High School to the Bromley Room at the Siuslaw Public Library. The event will feature Latin Grammy-nominated Quattrosound, an innovative ensemble that blends pop, jazz and classical into a new genre the group calls "Popzzical." The band's members will take questions, discuss and demonstrate their artistry on cello, violin, guitar and darbuka, a goblet-shaped drum common to North Africa and the Middle East.

Originally scheduled as an extra arts and music program for students, the engagement had to move due to a scheduling conflict with the school. The free event will instead take place at 11:30 a.m. on Friday, Oct. 9. Students and the public are invited. Quattrosound kickoff SEACOAST's 2015-16 concert season at 7 p.m. that evening. As part of their service to the community, SEACOAST books many of its performers to provide master classes for students, make visitations at senior care facilities or host public meet-and-greets in addition to their concerts.

Hailing from Japan, Mexico, Guatemala and Texas, the group's music is as broad as their ethnicities. According to their website, this innovative acoustic-based ensemble skillfully blurs the lines between music genres. The members are equally astute at playing a classical piece by Bach as they are at covering Led Zeppelin or jazz-fusion artist Chick Corea.

Individually, these L.A.-based musicians have played with the likes of Bocelli, Barbara Streisand, Yo-Yo Ma, Annie Lennox, Michael Jackson, Layla Hathaway, Ricky Martin and Gloria Estefan. Together, they create a unique musical experience with impressive technicality that brings audiences to their feet at every performance. Music critics from across the country have described Quattrosound as "blindingly talented," "Bursting with intellect, passion and virtuosity," and "Sounding like nothing you've heard before."

SEACOAST's 2015-16 lineup also includes vocalist Ken Lavigne, Nov. 21; guitarist Jesse Cook, Jan. 29; Ballet Fantastique, Feb. 20; the Glenn Miller Orchestra, March 18; Shuffle (a group so multitalented they let the audience pick the playlist), April 7; and gypsy-jazz artists The New Hot Club of America, May 13. Individual concert tickets are $30 each (students under 18, $10), but a season ticket package is $150, affording buyers a per-show savings of more than $8. Tickets, artist profiles, show times, video clips and more information are available at www.SEACOASTEA.org. Tickets can also be purchased at the Florence Events Center box office, 715 Quince St., or phone at 541-997-1994.
