Law enforcement hosts Drug Take Back today

The Lane County Sheriff's Office, Florence Police Department and the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) will be hosting the National Drug Take Back event Saturday, Sept. 26, aimed at providing a resource for Lane County residents to safely, securely and anonymously turn in their unwanted, outdated or expired household medicines.

Law enforcement agencies across the nation will be participating in this event on the same day during the same hours with the goal being to rid our communities of unwanted prescription and over-the-counter medications that could potentially be misused.

Bring unwanted, outdated or expired prescription and over-the-counter medications to Bi-Mart, 4310 Highway 101, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. today.

Acceptable items: Prescription medications, over-the-counter medications, vitamins, drug samples, pet medications, ointments, lotions and liquid medicines in glass or leak proof containers.

Items such as needles, thermometers, bloody or infectious waste, medicines from businesses, hydrogen peroxide, aerosol cans, inhalers and diabetic meters can not be accepted.

In 2014, the Sheriff's Office participated in two DEA-sponsored Take Back events and collected more than 440 pounds of prescription medications. In the last Take Back event held in June, personnel collected 212 pounds of medications.

In addition, Americans are now advised that their usual methods for disposing of unused medicines — flushing them down the toilet or throwing them in the trash — both pose potential safety and health hazards.

If you are unable to attend the Drug Take Back Event and you have prescription or over the counter medications you would like to dispose of, the Lane County Sheriff's Office has a Drug Drop Box located in its Central Reception lobby in the Lane County Courthouse that is available to accept medications Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., excluding legal holidays.

No appointment is necessary to drop off medications.

ALICE "MARTY" HELMUTH passed away on August 12th at the age of 89. A long-time resident of Dunes City, Marty was in Portland for medical care when she died.

Marty was born December 27, 1925 in Chicago, Illinois, the daughter of Eckard and Clara Martz. She and her sister Viola had an adventurous childhood, fishing throughout the North Woods and going from Chicago to Los Angeles and back in a Model T Ford on the then primitive road system. Marty attended Monmouth College and the University of Illinois, graduating with a BS in Bacteriology. She found her true calling later as a teacher, especially enjoying 5th graders. While teaching in Iran, her lesson plans were confiscated by SAVAK, the Shah's secret police.

Marty and her husband, Darrell Neil Helmuth, a petroleum geologist, lived an adventurous life. They resided in Venezuela, Iran and throughout the western United States including twice in Alaska, also traveling the world for pleasure, touring in the Middle East, Europe, Central America and sailing the South Pacific. Marty loved the outdoors, rousting the family out for camping, razor clamming and salmon fishing trips in Alaska and elsewhere. A unique "house" camping experience for all occurred for several weeks after the 1964 Good Friday Earthquake in Anchorage.

After retiring to their dream cottage on Lake Woahink, Marty and Darrell took an active interest in preserving the lake's water quality from ill-advised development, including being founding members of the Woahink Lake Association.

Marty is survived by son Von Helmuth (m . Elke), daughter Holly Martin (m. Mike), grandchildren Chloe Sannikov, Justin Martin, and Alexey Helmuth, and great grandchild Alisa Sannikov.

A private memorial service is planned for December. Donations may be made in her name to The Nature Conservancy, one of many environmental and wildlife organizations Marty supported.
