40-yard line on a quarterback keeper by Simington as the game entered the second period. After a penalty, the junior carried the ball for another seven yards to make it second-and-15 on the Mountaineers' 15-yard line.

Packebush pushed the Sailors to the 8-yard line and within five yards of a first down, but an off-sides call meant a loss of yards that put Mapleton at third-and-15. Simington was sacked on the next play, leaving the Mountaineers to take over on their own 30-yard line. Mapleton's defense held strong, forcing Falls City to turn the ball over. With 3:26 remaining in the half, sophomore tight end Dominic Wells slipped through the Falls City defense for a 23-yard TD run that gave the Sailors a 20-14 lead. Packebush added to the lead less than a minute later on a 51-yard run that extended

Mapleton's lead to 26-14 with 1:22 left in the half. With 19 seconds left, the Mountaineers managed to slip into the end zone, first on a TD then a conversion, to close the gap to 26-22. The second half belonged to Falls City, however, beginning with a failed onside kick by the Sailors to begin the third quarter. Though senior lineman Trevver D'Auteuil nearly came up with the possession, the Mountaineers managed to nab it on the 50-yard line. From there, Falls City was able to run it in for a TD on the next play for a 30-26 lead less than a minute into the half. Mapleton was scoreless in the third period as the Mountaineers took a 38-25 lead entering the fourth quarter en route to a 44-26 win. Friday, the Sailors will be at Alsea to take on the Wolverines, beginning at 7 p.m. Mapleton's next home game is Oct. 16 against Siletz.

seventh overall (189) in team scoring, with freshman Murray Bingham running a season-best time of 17:06.8 for sixth place individually. In addition to being a breakout performance for Bingham, it also landed him the fourth best time in Siuslaw history for a freshman.

Fishing from 1B

daily bag limit of 1 adult coho and seasonal limit of 2 adult coho (in aggregate with other areas with the same bag limit). The lower bay up to the North Fork confluence typically produces the best results early in the season. Lake Creek will not open for wild coho in 2015.

The cutthroat trout fishery is fair for sea runs in the lower reaches of the river and in upper tide water. Fishing during the early mornings or near the larger tributaries is the most productive.

ALSEA RIVER: Chinook, coho, cutthroat trout

The fall Chinook fishery is producing fair to good results for both bank and boat anglers. Anglers are having the best action fishing from the lower bay up to the head of tide. Trolling, casting lures or bobber fishing are all producing depending on the section and conditions.

Bank fishing near the Hwy. 101 bridge or up at the newly opened Don Lindly Park (MP 7 on Hwy. 34) can be good for both Chinook and coho.

Sophomore Isaac Griffes was second on the Viks and 30th overall with a time of 18:35.2, followed by junior Sean Burns in 44th (18:52.7), sophomore Kyle King in 47th (19:01.5) and junior Jack Pickell in 53rd (19:08.5). Junior Drew Rannow (19:15.5) and sophomore Jordan Northrop (19:27.8) finished 60th and 68th, respectively. Tillamook won the team title with an impressive score of 54. Newport was a distant second (113), Elmira third (125), North Bend fifth (153) and Philomath sixth (165). Marshfield was eighth (206) and South Umpqua finished ninth (214) to round out the Far West among the 20-team invitational. The Vikings will lace up their running shoes again this Saturday, when they compete at the George Fox XC Classic at Mission Park.

The Far West League district meet will be held Thursday, Oct. 22, at Tugman State Park, followed by the 4A state meet on Saturday, Oct. 31, at Lane Community College in Eugene.

The wild coho fishery is under way and will continue through Oct. 15. The daily bag limit of 1 adult coho and seasonal limit of 2 adult coho (in aggregate with other areas with the same bag limit). The lower bay typically produces the best results early in the season.

Cutthroat trout fishing is fair in the lower mainstem below the confluence with Five Rivers.

With the low and warm river conditions the best opportunities will be in the early morning when water temperatures are the coolest. Small spinners are typically productive as wells as small spoons or fly fishing with nymphs or streamers.

SALMON RIVER: Chinook, cutthroat trout

The fall Chinook fishery is producing well for both boat and bank anglers in tide water. Trolling, casting lures or bobber fishing through the high slack tide tends to be the most productive.

Cutthroat trout fishing from upper tide water through the lower river can be effective during the early mornings with sea runs moving through this time of year.

SILETZ RIVER: Chinook, coho, steelhead, cutthroat trout

The fall Chinook fishery has been producing fair to good results in the lower bay up to the Chinook Bend area.

Chinook can be found through the head of tide but still in small numbers. Trolling or bobber fishing through the high slack seems to be the most productive.

The wild coho fishery continues through Nov. 30 with a daily bag limit of 1 adult coho and seasonal limit of 2 adult coho (in aggregate with other areas with the same bag limit). The lower bay up to Coyote Rock typically produces the best results early in the season.

WILSON RIVER: Steelhead, Chinook, cutthroat

Summer steelhead fishing is slow. Fishing for cutthroat trout should be fair. Use lighter gear for best results as the water is extremely low and clear. Fall Chinook angling in tidewater will improve over the coming weeks as more fish arrive.

YAQUINA RIVER: Chinook, coho, cutthroat trout

Anglers are having fair to good results for fall Chinook from the lower bay up to the Canyon Quarry boat launch area. Trolling herring or spinners during the incoming tide through the high slack typically produces the best results. Small numbers of Chinook are also up near Elk City.

The wild coho fishery is open through Nov. 30 with a daily bag limit of 1 adult coho and seasonal limit of 2 adult coho (in aggregate with other areas with the same bag limit). The lower bay up to the airport boat ramp typically produces the best results for coho.

COOS COUNTY LAKES/PONDS: Largemouth bass, bluegills

Fishing for largemouth bass and bluegills has been good in many of the Coos County lakes. Fishing for bass will be best in the very early mornings and late evenings. Fish for bluegills around structure like submerged logs and weed lines.

UMPQUA RIVER, SOUTH: The South Umpqua is currently closed to all fishing until Dec. 1.

Fishing for bottomfish in the Triangle and South jetty has been successful. Perch fishing has been productive in the bay, and it was reported that good size striped perch were being caught along the jetty.

Crabbing has been improving, and Chinook are still being caught in the ocean off of Winchester Bay and in the lower Umpqua River.

PACIFIC OCEAN and BEACHES: Bottomfish, salmon, Dungeness crab, surf perch

The ocean is open for harvest of Dungeness crab and crabbing has been good outside of Coos Bay and Winchester Bay.

Anglers are catching surf perch on the area beaches like Horsefall Beach. Fishing the incoming tides with sand shrimp usually works the best to catch surf perch.

Recreational ocean salmon season from Cape Falcon to Humbug Mt. is open for Chinook salmon. The non-selective coho season closed Sept. 30.

Fishing for Chinook in the ocean from Bandon to Winchester Bay has been slow.
