Shades of Blue
10 p.m. on KGW, KOBI

It's a busy television midseason for Jennifer Lopez, since in addition to her final round of judging on "American Idol," she stars in (and executive-produces) this new drama series. She plays a single-mom Brooklyn police detective faced with turning informant on her colleagues, led by a maverick lieutenant (Ray Liotta). Warren Kohl portrays the FBI special agent who wants to know what she knows. Drea de Matteo ("The Sopranos") also stars in the "Pilot."

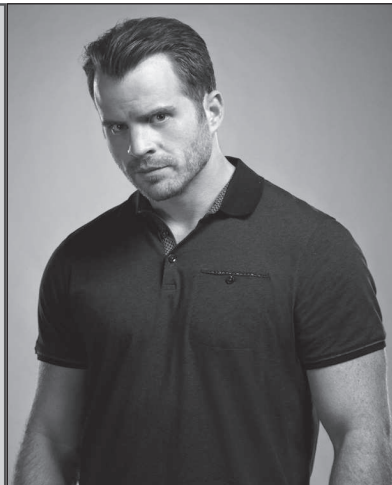

73rd Annual Golden Globe Awards
8 p.m. on KGW

There was a time when it was said Ricky Gervais never would be asked to host this ceremony again. Well, forget about that: The actor-comedian is back for his fourth stint, taking shots at various attendees as the Hollywood Foreign Press Association presents honors for movies and television at the Beverly Hilton Hotel in Beverly Hills, Calif. Denzel Washington receives the Cecil B. DeMille Award, and Corinne Foxx (Jamie's daughter) is Miss Golden Globe this time.

Second Chance
9 p.m. on KLSR

A Seattle lawman — played first by Philip Baker Hall, then by "True Blood" alum Rob Kazinsky — gets a literal second chance at life in "A Suitable Donor," the premiere of this new drama. Killed while trying to stop a crime, he's brought back to life by wealthy twins (Adhir Kalyan, Dilshad Vadsaria) who want to use his re-energized blood to keep one of them alive. Tim DeKay ("White Collar") plays his FBI-agent son, and Amanda Detmer and Ciara Bravo also star.
