You, Me and the Apocalypse
 Thursday at 8 p.m. on KGW, KOBI, KMTR

If "The Last Man on Earth" suggests what happens after doomsday, this seriocomic new show depicts what might happen just before that. Though the series is British-made, Rob Lowe, Jenna Fischer ("The Office") and Megan Mullally play several of the people whose lives are examined before a comet is expected to strike Earth. In the premiere, "Who Are These People?," some make their way to a bunker that lets them survive and become the basis of a new society.

The People v. O.J. Simpson: American Crime Story
 Tuesday at 10 p.m. on FX

Jeffrey Toobin's book about the former football star's trial is the source of this new, limited-run series from executive producer Ryan Murphy ("American Horror Story") that brings John Travolta back to television as Robert Shapiro, one of the defense attorneys for murder suspect Simpson (played by Cuba Gooding Jr.). Courtney B. Vance also stars as lawyer Johnnie Cochran, with Sarah Paulson, David Schwimmer, Nathan Lane and Bruce Greenwood among additional cast members.

Madoff
 Wednesday at 8 p.m. on KATU, KEZI

A name synonymous with investment fraud becomes the title of this new miniseries, concluding the next night. Oscar winner Richard Dreyfuss stars as Bernie Madoff in the drama, which is a collaboration between ABC's entertainment division and its news department, via the latter's Lincoln Square Productions. To that end, a book about Madoff by ABC investigative reporter Brian Ross was a prime source for the teleplay here. Blythe Danner and Charles Grodin also appear.
