second place with 134.5 points. Douglas won the team title with 138 points in team scoring. All in all, Siuslaw got scoring from 8 of its 14 wrestlers, including Simmons (28), Tupua (26), Lane (20), Huff (18), Riley Jennings (13), Dylan Jennings (12), Patrick Hill (7) and Salvador Sierra (6). Tomorrow, Siuslaw will be at South Umpqua for the final Far West League Crab Pool.

Matches begin at 3 p.m. Friday, the Viks will be competing on the mats at the Cottage Grove Invitational, beginning at noon. Saturday's matches begin at 10 a.m.

The regional meet is Feb. 19-20 at Henley High School in Klamath Falls, with the top three wrestlers from each weight class advancing to state competition Feb. 26 and 27 in Portland.

ATHLETE

OF THE WEEK

Scott Simmons

Siuslaw H.S. Wrestling

The 138 pound junior won the individual title in his weight class at last week's Douglas Invitational in Winston.

Honorable Mention Trent Reavis

Honorable mention goes to Viking basketball standout Trent Reavis. The 6'7" post averaged 12 points a game over two games for Siuslaw last week.

Sailors from 1B

The Sailors had four players in scoring, led by freshman post Alyssa Richards, who had a double-double 18 points and 22 rebounds on the night. "Alyssa was a real standout for us," said Crook. "She out-matched their posts in size and ability, which we took advantage of to make easy baskets." The result was one of the Sailors highest-scoring games of the season. In addition to scoring from Richards, Mapleton got buckets from senior wing Hannah Rodet, who had six points and 14 rebounds to go with two steals, and three points each from freshman Alyssa West and senior Destiny Weber. "We played hard, but Alsea took advantage of fastbreaks to get easy baskets," said Crook. "Regardless of the final score, it was a good game for us." Friday, Mapleton will be on the road at Mohawk, with the girls tipping off at 5:30 p.m., followed by the boys at 7 p.m. (Note: There was no boys game Friday due to Alsea's inability to field a team.)

tends to be slower during the winter months. There are numerous lakes in the Florence area that can provide good opportunity and have both boat and bank access. SIUSLAW RIVER: Chinook, steelhead The fall Chinook fishery is very slow and basically over for the season. Any remaining fish are in spawning condition. Look for small numbers of fish to be in the lower river above the head of tide this early in the season. Casting lures or bobber fishing can be productive during low clear flows. ALSEA RIVER: Chinook, steelhead The fall Chinook fishery is very slow. Most remaining fish are actively spawning. A small number of new fish may enter the basin over the next couple weeks. Winter steelhead season has arrived. The best chances to hook a chrome steelhead at this time would be in the lower section below Five Rivers. Tossing spinners, or floating bait or a jig are good options during low clear flows. SALMON RIVER: Chinook, steelhead The fall Chinook fishery is very slow. Most remaining fish are actively spawning or already spawned out. Winter steelhead season tends to kick in this time of year. A small number of fish are likely in the system now and look for the numbers to steadily increase over the coming month. Casting lures, bouncing the bottom or drifting jigs or bait under a bobber are good techniques to consider. SILETZ RIVER: Chinook, steelhead The fall Chinook fishery is slow. A small number of new fish may be found in the lower river but most remaining fish are actively spawning or spawned out. The wild coho fishery is now closed for the season. Winter steelhead season is just getting underway. This time of year typically sees the first few fish entering the river. Best chances early on during lower flows will come from below the town of Siletz. Side drifting, bouncing bottom or bobber fishing can be productive. WILSON RIVER: Steelhead, Chinook The river is still high. When the river drops, fall Chinook and winter steelhead will be available. Fishing should be fair to good. Anglers are reminded that the river above Jordan Creek is closed to all salmon fishing. YAQUINA RIVER: Chinook, steelhead Anglers are having very little success for fall Chinook in the upper section of tide water. Most fish are now on the spawning grounds. The winter steelhead run is now underway. The Big Elk tends to start seeing fish this time of year in small numbers. Look for the next good rain event to get the fishery going. The wild coho fishery is now closed for the year. COOS COUNTY LAKES AND PONDS: Trout Lakes in Coos County are open all year for trout fishing. Trout will not be stocked until the spring. Some trophy trout were stocked in both Bradley and Butterfield lakes in October. Anglers have been catching some of the large trophy trout on small flies or slowly trolling spinners. COOS RIVER BASIN: Dungeness crab, steelhead, bay clams Steelhead have been caught in the past few days on the West Fork and East Fork Millicoma rivers along with the South Fork Coos River. Drifting eggs or fishing a jig under a bobber are effective ways to catch steelhead. Anglers fishing the South Fork Coos River above Dellwood will need a permit from Weyerhaeuser, which they can pick up at the Dellwood office. Recreational harvest of crab re-opened from the Columbia River to the California border. It is still recommended you discard the crab viscera (guts/butter) before cooking.

Meet Koda

Hi there, I'm Koda and I'm just hanging out here out the shelter until I find my forever best friend. I'm pretty energetic, playing ball and romping around the yard are some of my favorite things to do. Snuggling on the couch or in bed is also pretty wonderful too!

If you would like to meet Koda any of his friends, please visit us at:
