Rhino Ceramic Coatings

Welcome to the New Age in ceramic coatings. For over a decade, Rhino Shield by Rhino Ceramic Coatings has pioneered the development and installation of ceramic elastomeric wall coating technology.

Rhino Shield breaks the perpetual exterior painting cycle with its proprietary and revolutionary ceramic coating system, hence our slogan "Never Paint Again!" and "It's Not Paint."

Rhino Shield eliminates frequent house repainting. It looks like exterior latex paint but dries to an 8 to 9 times greater mil thickness and is available in an endless array of colors. It also meets or exceeds all the key tests for coating durability and performance and has been tested by BASF labs.

Rhino Shield contains low VOCs and is non-toxic, low odor and nonflammable. It also waterproofs your home or building and helps prevent mold, mildew and algae growth. It allows natural water vapors to escape due to its superior breathability properties, thus preventing coating breakdown.

In addition, Rhino Shield works on virtually any surface including wood, stucco, HardiePlank, brick and block.

Visit our Rhino Shield booth at the Home Show and check out our website www.rhino-shield.com. Call 541-888-5458 for more information.

Celia's Gourmet Foods

It's OK to play with your food! Go ahead — escape to the Florence Home and Garden Show and taste some of the finest balsamic vinegars and olive oils on the planet, then learn how to play with flavors for easy cooking ideas and new ingredients.

As the pioneering company of authentic Italian barrel-aged balsamic vinegars since 1998, Celia's Gourmet Foods knows the importance of using the finest ingredients when we hand-craft our small batch vinegars and olive oils. We love to play with flavors and each bottle holds an original recipe, made with all natural ingredients. You won't find any added sugars, fillers, colors or chemicals, and all are gluten free.

Did you know that balsamic vinegars were first noted in Rome in the 1400s, referred to as saba? But while the vinegars have been around for centuries, they have only been in America since the 1960s.

Balsamic vinegar is simply a grape must (cooked grape juice), which is acetified to become vinegar. The process of making grape juice and balsamic vinegar is intricate and time-consuming. After stomping and cooking, the grape must is aged for years in a series of wooden barrels made from different woods, such as oak, chestnut, juniper and cherry. Contact with the wood gives the darkness of color and flavors, with oak an essential flavor, cherry giving it sweetness, chestnut for color, etc.

So come sample our flavors and learn more about balsamic history and the amazing health benefits this elixir holds.

Expand your recipe file, discover impressive drink and dessert ideas — balsamic vinegars can be like tea or cocktails — plus we will provide you with cooking tips so the deep, rich flavors of all our products can enhance the recipes you prepare.
