Cape from 1B

category of Readers' Favorite, the National Indie Excellence Book Award for Cover and Graphic Design, and New York's Beach Book Festival. The Cape Perpetua Winter

Discovery Series is an opportunity to explore topics and resources relevant to the Oregon Coast during the off-season months between November and March. All presentations and guided walks are free, but a Northwest Forest Pass, Oregon Coast

Passport, federal recreation pass or $5 day-use fee is required within to the Cape Perpetua Scenic Area.

Upcoming Winter Discovery Series events:

- March 21 (11:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m.) — Experiencing Gray Whales: Cape Perpetua volunteer naturalist and former

Bureau of Land Management Chief of Interpretation Michael Noack has studied gray whales for many years, assisting with whale research missions and training Whale Watch volunteers.

Visitors will enjoy hearing about his first-hand encounters with these iconic creatures of the Oregon Coast. • March 26 (2 p.m.) — Oregon Dunes: They're more than just sand. Learn about the origins, shapes and future of the longest stretch of coastal dunes in the United States.

Dina Pavlis, author of "Secrets of the Oregon Dunes" will share photos, stories and knowledge gained from living and playing within the Oregon Dunes National Recreation Area.

No RSVPs necessary for any of the Discovery Series events. For information, call the Cape Perpetua Visitor Center at 541-547-3289.

NED HICKSON/SUSLAW NEWS

Mapleton freshman Alyssa Richards competes in the high jump, where she placed fourth. Richards also fourth in the long jump and third in the javelin during Monday's annual Mapleton 300, which hosted teams from Jewel and Triangle Lake.

MHS from 1B

Due to field conditions, there was no triple jump event. In the relays, the Sailor boys placed second in the 3x100-meter race with legs from AJ Foster, Wilson and Simington (2.22). Simington and Foster teamed up with Cole and Wells for the 3x300 relay, placing third with a time of 2:19. Foster also placed third in the 100-meter dash with a time of 12.24.

In the 200-meter dash, Simington finished in 25.74 for second place, with Foster placing fourth (26.24).

Cole won the 600-meter run in 1:43, with Wells placing fourth (1:53).

Tomorrow, the Sailors were set to compete at the Reedsport Invitational, but the event was canceled.

Instead, Mapleton will participate in the Oakridge Relays this Saturday, beginning at 10 a.m.
