All the Way

Saturday at 8 p.m. on HBO

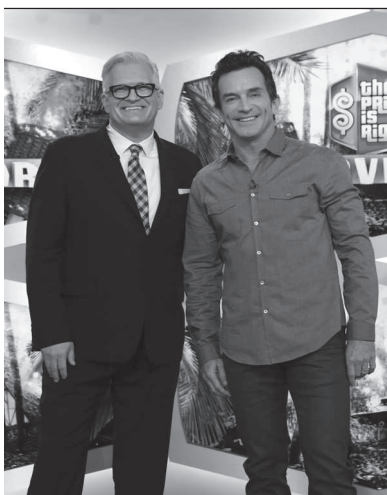

President Lyndon B. Johnson (Emmy winner Bryan Cranston, "Breaking Bad") endures a stormy first year in office while trying to launch a civil rights bill in this gripping new adaptation of the hit play that earned its leading man — virtually unrecognizable here — a Tony Award in his Broadway debut. Oscar winner Melissa Leo also stars as Lady Bird Johnson, with Anthony Mackie as Martin Luther King, Bradley Whitford as Vice President Hubert Humphrey and Frank Langella as Sen. Richard Russell. Jay Roach directs.

The Price Is Right
Primetime Special
- Survivor Edition

Monday at 8 p.m. on KVAL

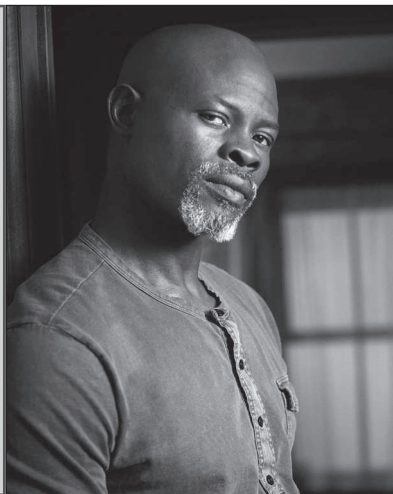

Long one of daytime's most popular series, the Emmy-winning game show returns to primetime for the first of three consecutive nights featuring veterans of reality-competition programs as contestants. Here, host Drew Carey puts Rupert Boneham, Jeremy Collins, Kelley Wentworth, Tina Wesson and others who carried torches — literally — through item-pricing games familiar to fans of the weekday version. "Survivor's" Jeff Probst also makes an appearance.

Wayward Pines

Wednesday at 9 p.m. on KLSR

A lot more is known about the title Idaho town than when this M. Night Shyamalan-produced series started last year, but there still are secrets to be revealed as Season 2 begins with "Enemy Lines." Jason Patric ("Rush") joins the cast as a doctor new to the locale, but soon battling the so-called First Generation. Djimon Hounsou ("Blood Diamond") also joins the show. Returnees include Terrence Howard ("Empire"), Carla Gugino and Melissa Leo.
