

Oregon author William L. Sullivan to speak at library

The Siuslaw Public Library will present author William L. Sullivan for a program on Tuesday, June 7, beginning at 1 p.m., in the library's Bromley Room, 1460 Ninth St.

Oregon's hiking guru will take attendees on a slide show tour of a dozen new trails he discovered while researching the new fourth edition of his book, "100 Hikes and Travel Guide: Oregon Coast and Coast Range."

Discover a loop hike around Depoe Bay, an abandoned railroad along a river near Tillamook and a trek to the world's tallest redwoods just over the border in California.

As always, Sullivan spices his talk with notes on the geology, wildlife and history of the land.

Sullivan is the author of 17 books about Oregon, including "Oregon Trips and Trails," "Oregon's Greatest Natural Disasters," "Hiking Oregon's History" and the popular "100 Hikes" series.

His journal of a 1000-mile hike he took across Oregon in 1985, "Listening for Coyote," was chosen by the Oregon Cultural Heritage Commission as one of Oregon's "100 Books" — the 100 most significant books in the state's history.

He has also written four novels and a collection of short stories, "The Oregon Variations."

He helped with the campaign to build Eugene's new library, served on the Oregon State Library Board, and is president of the Lane Library League, a citizen group with the goal of extending library service to the unserved of Lane County.

This program is free and open to the public.
