Emeralds to host opening day June 17

EUGENE The Eugene Emeralds, a second-year affiliate of the Chicago Cubs, will begin their season by hosting the Boise Hawks on June 17, at 7:05 p.m., in their home, P.K. Park.

The team, who has been as unlucky as its big league affiliates, The Chicago Cubs, are confident that this will be their year. Fans can come out to the ball park to help "Reverse the Curse" and start the season with a win.

The first 1,000 fans through the Home Plate gate will receive a special edition "Reverse the Curse" T-shirt, presented by Pepsi, and a 2016 playoff voucher.

Last year, the Ems failed to reach the playoffs by only a single game. The team hopes to turn around its fortune this season.

The opening game will be the first chance for fans to see the newest generation of the Emeralds take the field. Fans will also be encouraged to stay after the game to watch a jam-packed laser light show, presented by Pepsi.

During each home game, the Emeralds will feature a local nonprofit through the Kendall Community Spotlight.

This program helps shine a light on some of the nonprofits in the Eugene and Springfield area, and bring awareness to all the hard work the organizations do on a daily basis.

For Opening Day, Alvord-Taylor will be the Kendall Community Spotlight. Alvord-Taylor works to empower people with intellectual and developmental disabilities to have quality experiences at home, at work and in the community.

To find out more, visit their website or come see them on the concourse at PK Park.

The Eugene Emeralds are the shortseason Class A team of the Chicago Cubs. In 2015, six of the top 30 Cubs prospects spent time in Eugene, including Ian Happ, Donnie Dewees and Eloy Jimenez.
