Music at FRAA Saturday

Florence Regional Arts Alliance (FRAA) invites the public to visit its Art Center and gallery, 120 Maple St., on Saturday, July 9, from 3 to 5 p.m., to view art pieces and enjoy the gentle harmony and soft guitar work of Lori Robertson and Ron Kiturkes.

and Kiturkes have formed the duo called Mosaic Waters. They enjoy playing an eclectic mix of standard and original folk, blues and ballads.

Come listen to the delicate harmony of Mosaic Waters while browsing through the FRAA gallery and enjoying complimentary refreshments.

Preschool students receive surprise donation

Bright Beginnings Christian Preschool children were excited to find a new play structure in their playground recently.

The large wooden play set was generously donated by Ken and Kristy Larson. When school director Kristi Ryan heard about the donation, she quickly enlisted the help of parents, staff and friends to move the large structure.

The next morning, the children were delighted to find a new slide, swings and climbing apparatus in their playground.

"We're so grateful to Ken and Kristy Larson, this is an important donation to our school," said Ryan. "Our older play equipment was becoming damaged by the weather and in need of replacement. The kids love the new play structure.

"It allows for more fun sensory feedback. That movement during break time enhances the student's ability to learn and focus. We feel really blessed by this donation to our school."

Bright Beginnings Christian Preschool has openings for summer session beginning July 5 and continuing through August. There are also spaces available for the Fall 2016 session.

SEAcost to serve up Pink Martini at FEC

Seacoast Entertainment Association has announced its 2016-17 line up and season tickets are on sale as of July 8. The season is highlighted by Pink Martini's show on Nov. 18, with a second Pink Martini show on Nov. 19 co-produced by SEAcost and the Friends of the Florence Events Center.

This unique "little orchestra" has won international acclaim and its first Florence appearance is generating considerable interest on the coast and in the valley.

"The FEC box office is getting calls daily for Pink Martini tickets," said Linda Gargis, president of Seacoast Entertainment. "And individual tickets don't even on sale until Aug. 1.

"The FEC staff is telling us they anticipate both nights selling out fast, so we want to be sure people get their season tickets before the single tickets go on sale."

One way concert goers can beat the rush is by purchasing the seven-concert season package before July 30.

"It's a great value," said

Gargis. "People will get preferred seating and not only will they be the first to get Pink Martini tickets, they will get another great six shows as well."

Season tickets go on sale

July 8, and single ticket sales start Aug. 1 for Pink Martini and the rest of the series.

Superintendent, Power of Florence on KCST 'Our Town' today

An exit interview with the outgoing school superintendent, back to back to a conversation with her successor, will anchor today's edition of Coast Radio's "Our Town," from 4 to 6 p.m. on KCST 106.9 FM.

Ethel Angal wrapped up a four-decade career in education last week when she stepped down after two years as the top administrator at Siuslaw.

Her successor, Andy Gzreskowiak, has been in the 97J school district for 20 years. He was chosen by the school board in April to replace Angal.

This week's program will also feature conversations with the manager of the animal shelter at the Oregon Coast Humane Society (OCHS).

After 20 years, it changed its name from the Florence Area Humane Society (FAHS) to more accurately reflect the area they service.

Also on the docket in Our Town will be information about two upcoming benefit events: The annual Power of fLOreNcE day is set for Saturday, July 16.

Organizer and high school junior Kaylee Graham and her designated successor, Ava Glowacki, will talk about all of the events scheduled for that day.

Also in the studio will be Bobbie Harris, the chair of the American Cancer Society Florence Relay for Life, which is coming up Aug. 13 and 14 at Miller Park.

It's all sponsored by Andy Baber of Edward Jones Investments; Holloway and Associates CPAs; the Archives Photo Restoration Specialist, Lane Community College in Florence, Siuslaw Public Library and PeaceHealth.

Our Town airs on KCST, FM 106.9, the first Wednesday of each month between 4 and 6 p.m., then again the next morning on KCFM, AM1250-FM 104.1, from 10 a.m. to noon.
