'SALMON RUN' RETURNS FOR SUNDSTROM

BY NED HICKSON
Siuslaw News

It only seemed fitting when the Siuslaw Watershed Council (SWC) named Shiloh Sundstrom as its "Spirit of the Siuslaw" award recipient posthumously during its meeting last February.

The Deadwood resident and Mapleton High School graduate, who earned a masters degree in forest resources from Oregon State University in 2009, dedicated much of his time to the watershed over the years before a tragic hit-and-run accident took his life at age 34 last November.

As an intern with the SWC in 2006, Sundstrom began the Salmon Run 5K as a fundraiser for its watershed programs, particularly its summer camps for kids — hands-on experiences that introduces them to the area's ecosystem, wildlife and the importance of conservation.

"The run lasted about three years but sort of fizzled out after Shiloh went to college," said Tom Burke of the SWC.

This past February, while accepting the "Spirit" award on behalf of his son, Johnny Sundstrom challenged the board to start the run again.

"The board thought it was a great idea to get that tradition going again," said Burke.

As a result, Burke and volunteers began digging into old permits issued a decade ago to retrace the route Sundstrom established and keep it as close to the original as they could. Unfortunately, road closures and restrictions wouldn't allow for the same route, but the council kept it as close as possible.

It was the largest turnout ever for the Florence Rotary's annual "Cool at the Coast" golf tournament fundraiser last Saturday, Aug. 6, with 140 players on the greens at Ocean Dunes Golf Links.

Rotarian and trumpeter Ron Green started things off with a moving rendition of the National Anthem, followed by a flyover from pilot Sam Spayd of Aero Legends in his blue and gold World War II biplane signaling the official shotgun start of the event.

ODFW nixes fall Coho season

As a precautionary measure, the Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife (ODFW) will not propose any coastal freshwater fisheries on wild Coho this fall due to concerns over poor ocean survival and adequate spawning escapement to coastal rivers this year.

The Fish and Wildlife Commission was scheduled to consider a limited fishery in the Coos, Coquille and Umpqua rivers and Tenmile Lake at its latest meeting, but ODFW decided to not move forward with the proposal.

MID COAST LAKES:

Rainbow trout stocking is complete along the mid coast. Holdover trout will be available in most lakes through the summer. Fishing for the various warm water fish species is good this time of year as fish move to the shallows for spawning. There are numerous lakes in the Florence area that can provide good opportunity.
