

PIE TIN TO PLASTIC TOY

How many flying discs can you find on this page?

Can you find each of these pictures in the big picture?

PIE TIN TOSS

The students at Yale University loved William Frisbie's pies. They even loved his pie tins!

Tossing empty pie tins became a favorite way to pass time between classes. A firm flick of the wrist and the tin floated through the air.

But the metal pie tins hurt when they hit someone. As a safety measure, students started yelling, "Frisbie!" to alert others that they were tossing a tin to a pal.

MAYBE WE SHOULD THROW THE TIN WITHOUT THE PIE NEXT TIME!

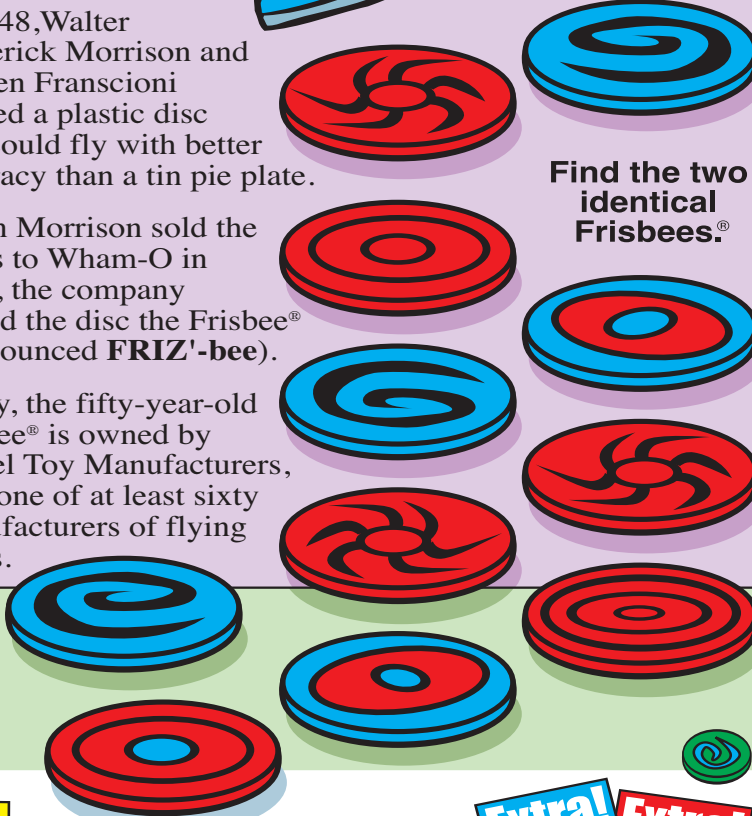

In 1948, Walter Frederick Morrison and Warren Franscioni created a plastic disc that could fly with better accuracy than a tin pie plate.

When Morrison sold the rights to Wham-O in 1957, the company named the disc the Frisbee® (pronounced FRIZ'-bee).

Today, the fifty-year-old Frisbee® is owned by Mattel Toy Manufacturers, only one of at least sixty manufacturers of flying discs.

Flying Disc Golf

Make a course of six or eight "holes" by setting up a series of objects or sites to try and hit with a Frisbee®.

Tie a brightly colored ribbon on a tree or pole as a good place to start. An empty bucket or laundry basket also makes a good "hole."

One or more players take turns attempting to hit each target with a flying disc toy.

Players count how many throws they take to hit the target. Wherever your Frisbee® lands, you take your next shot from that spot.

FLYING DISC GAMES

Many games are now played with a flying disc.

Here is a list of some of them. How do you think each game is played? Look them up and find out if you guessed correctly.

- Disc Dog
- Double Disc Court
- Fricket
- Disc Golf
- Flutterguts
- Goaltimate
- Dodge Disc
- Freestyle
- Ultimate

Extra! Extra! New Combos

Look through the newspaper for two items that don't seem to go together. Think of as many ways as you can to invent something new by combining those two things. For example, what could you make with a combination of a camera and sunglasses?
