Republican Club hosts candidate Q and A

It was standing room only for Wednesday's meeting of the Republican Club of Florence.

More than 60 people packed the Bromley room as candidates spoke, followed by a question and answer session.

Attendees took home lawn signs, bumper stickers and buttons. Additional signs and stickers are available at Old Cedar Tree Woodworking in Florence for those who couldn't attend the meeting.

A life-sized standing poster of Donald Trump was introduced as the special guest.

There is speculation that Trump will be visiting Oregon

Tuesday, Aug. 30.

Candidates who spoke included: Teri Grier (candidate for Oregon House of Representatives, District 9); Daniel Crowe (candidate for State Attorney General); Mark Callahan (candidate for U.S. Senate); Art Robinson (candidate for U.S. House of Representatives, District 4); spokespeople for Dick Anderson (Oregon State Senate, District 5); Jeff Gudman (Oregon State Treasurer); and Bud Pierce (Governor) also spoke and answered questions.
