Robert's Rules of Order workshop to be held at FEC

Want to attend more productive and efficient meetings? Unsure of when to make a motion for new business or call for the order of the day?

Then attend the Robert's Rules of Order In-Brief Workshop on Thursday, Sept. 8, from 9 a.m. to noon at the Florence Events Center.

Dr. Russ Pierson of Lane Community College has designed this workshop for new board members, long-time members and anyone that is part of an organization or committee that holds regular meetings.

The goal of Robert's Rules of Order is to provide common rules and procedures for deliberation and debate in order to place the whole membership on the same footing and speaking the same language.

Tickets are available at the Florence Events Center by calling 541-997-1994.

The workshop is $10 and comes with a book for personal use. Refreshments will also be provided.

St. Mary's Men's Club donates to youth program

On Wednesday, Aug. 17, Dan Gilday and Jim Perry of the St. Mary's Church Men's Group presented a check for $500 to Chuck Trent, executive director, and Michael Pearson, vice-president of the board of the Boys and Girls Club of Western Lane County.

The donation will be used to expand the Financial Literacy Program, Managing Money, bringing teens financial education to help them get on the path toward budgeting, saving, planning for college, living within your means and financial freedom.

Giving teens the know-how to make great financial decisions throughout their life is just one of the life skills that teens learn at the Boys and Girls Club.

St. Mary's Church Men's Club makes annual donations to local nonprofit organizations with funds earned from events put on at the church throughout the year.

Next FloTones concert to be 'south of the border'

Since the FloTones first organized 15 years ago, the last 12 as an independent nonprofit organization, it has entertained Florence audiences with a number of performances, primarily presenting music from "The Great American Songbook."

This includes music by such composers as Irving Berlin, Cole Porter and the Gershwins.

In a change of pace, the Florence jazz vocal group will tackle tunes from south of the border in "The FloTones and Friends present Latin Rhythms," to be performed in September at the Florence Events Center with an encore performance at the newly opened Class Act Theatre.

But, true to its roots, the group will throw in a couple of Latin-tinged songs by Porter and Gershwin.

Several rhythmic styles will be featured, including the bossa nova, the mambo, the samba and the beguine. The Brazilian bossa nova evolved from the earlier samba and attained prominence in the melodies of Antonio Carlos Jobim.

Among his tunes to be performed are "Desafinado" and "Wave." About the same time, the mambo became all the rage.

The FloTones will perform "Latin Rhythms" at the Florence Events Center Sept. 10 and 11 and at the Class Act Theatre Sept. 16 and 17.

The program will include "Mambo Italiano" popularized by songstress Rosemary Clooney.

Other composers featured include Henry Mancini's "It Had Better Be Tonight" from the movie "The Pink Panther" and Burt Bacharach's "The Look of Love" from the James Bond film "Casino Royale."

FloTones "Friends" joining the evening will include the musical accompaniment team of Jennifer Weier on keyboard, Ron Green on trumpet, Nate Kaplan on drums and Lynette Kristine on bass.

Performances on the FEC flat floor will be Saturday, Sept. 10, at 7 p.m., followed by another on Sunday, Sept. 11, at 3 p.m. The following weekend, FloTones and Friends will appear at the Class Act Theatre(CAT) on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 16 and 17, at 7 p.m. Tickets for all concerts are $15. For more information, call 541-902-8314.
