DAR hosting library display for 'Constitution Week'

In recognition of the annual observation of Constitution Week, Sept. 17 through 23, Oregon Dunes Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) continues its tradition of providing a display at Siuslaw Public Library to emphasize the importance of our nation's constitution.

Included in the display are replica coin and paper money from the era and a print out of the importance of the Currency Act of the Colonists.

The "Grand Union" flag and "Betsy Ross" flag are part of the display, along with explanations of the significance of each flag. Other items will help invite your interest in understanding the foundation of our government.

The library has provided several books for the display for those who want to learn more.

On Sept. 19, Mayor Joe Henry will present a proclamation in recognition of Constitution Week to Oregon Dunes Chapter members at the Florence City Council meeting.

DAR initiated the observance in 1955, when the organization petitioned the U.S. Congress to dedicate Sept. 17-23 each year to the commemoration of Constitution Week.

These and other Constitution-themed items are currently on display at the library.

Congress adopted the resolution, and on Aug. 2, 1956, President Dwight D. Eisenhower signed it into Public Law No. 915.

The celebration's goals are: 1) to encourage the study of the historical events that led to the framing of the Constitution in September 1787; 2) to inform people that the Constitution is the basis of America's great heritage and the foundation of our way of life; and 3) to emphasize U.S. citizens' responsibility to protect, defend and preserve the Constitution.

By fostering knowledge of and appreciation for the Constitution and the inalienable rights it affords to all Americans, DAR helps to keep alive the memory of the men and women who secured the nation's independence.

DAR strives to promote historic preservation, education and patriotism via commemorative events, scholarships and educational initiatives, citizenship programs, service to veterans, meaningful community service and more.

Local author Garelick to offer latest book at festival

The sixth annual Florence Festival of Books will be providing the stage for an eclectic array of words when a plethora of authors from near and far offer their works to readers of all persuasions.

This year's event is set for Saturday, Sept. 24, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., and retired Siuslaw News writer and still occasional contributor Burney Garelick will be among all the authors on hand.

Garelick will be ensconced at a festival table displaying four books, including the latest addition to her eclectic menagerie of spectacular syllables.

Her new book, "Also Selected Short Subjects," is a collection of stories that includes a couple of eccentric octogenarian sleuths, loquacious four-legged friends, senior improvisations, proportional choices, leprechauns, and the origin of a bibliophile.

Popcorn not included.

Last year, Garelick published her novel "Big Dunes, Gold Doubloons, Coffee Spoons and Loony Tunes." She describes it as a rollicking ride over the Oregon dunes with Diva and her reluctant Gallic spouse, along with a charming curmudgeon.

"Take a spin on the shifting sands where you'll encounter a multilingual Ice Cream Cat, the First Lady of the Air, four beetles on a medical mission, King Midas, Marco Not Polo, a pirate who sings light opera, The Red Nuns of Fuchsia, Teddy Bears on a picnic, and actual coastal characters you may recognize," says Garelick.

Interspersed throughout the story are a few of her concert and theater reviews reprised from yesterday.

Garelick's first two books, "It's Not Over: Mornings at the Met" and "Mew & Cry: Catcalls from the Box," include reviews of Metropolitan Opera performances from seasons 2013-14 and 2014-15 as seen live on a big screen in Newport.

If you've ever wondered what's so grand about opera but have been reluctant to take the first step, you're not alone.

"That's how I felt," Garelick said, "until I took a deep breath, plunged in and became so entranced that I wanted to share the experience. Even if you've always loved opera, you'll be amused by the reviews."

September in Florence is a time for turning leaves and turning pages.

"Come by my table and take a gander," Garelick adds.

Her books are also available at www.amazon.com.
