

Points of Grace group acupuncture fall session begins Sept. 21

Starting Wednesday, Sept. 21, Patricia Immel, L.Ac., of Wellspring Clinic, will offer Points of Grace community acupuncture.

Points of Grace sessions will continue in the following months on the first and third Wednesdays between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. The cost is by donation and each donation helps make this program possible.

The community is invited to attend.

The treatment is acupuncture of the ears with 1-5 points treated in each ear followed by 15-25 minutes of relaxation time with the needles in place. This is a quiet group treatment which is held in the Wellspring Clinic Garden Room.

Acupuncture of the ears is a gentle, effective therapy to relieve pain, calm and balance the nervous system, reduce anxiety and depressive feelings, promote restful sleep, increase mental clarity and provide an inner sense of well-being.

This treatment, known as 5NP or five-needle protocol, is utilized internationally in integrated healthcare settings.

"During our Spring session we served 690 attendees," said Imel. "The significant health benefits people experienced and their appreciation for the service inspires our team to continue the program. We want to help people feel their best."

Wellspring Clinic is at 1845 Highway 126 and Quince Street at Park Place, Suite H.

Allow 30-40 minutes for the treatment experience.

Jim Hoberg

I love what I do. My career in Real Estate began in 1989, the past 25 years of which I have been licensed as a Principal Broker. During this time I've had the privilege of working on a wide array of Real Estate transactions and dealing with many wonderful clients, contractors and vendors in the Florence area.

I understand that the process of buying or selling a house can be complicated and challenging. It is my goal to alleviate that pressure for you and help you meet the goal of a successful sale. It is important to me to seek out additional education opportunities to keep up with current Real Estate trends and provide a higher level of service to my clients. For instance, most recently I earned the NAR's "Green" designation, which helps me stay on top of green Real Estate issues and trends.

I have a deep respect for the goals and concerns of my clients and, because of this, have exceeded the expectations of my clients. This has made me both friends and clients for life.

To ensure efficient and complete service for my clients, I have carefully selected a team of assistants who are as enthusiastic about helping you with every aspect of your Real Estate needs as I am. Together we are known for providing outstanding service and sticking with our clients until the job is done.
