

Summer house concert series continues Sunday

Classical guitarist John Jarvie returns to perform in Kathy Parsons' house concert series in Florence (Sandpines West) on Sunday, Sept. 25, at 3 p.m.

There is a suggested donation of $15 at the door.

The address and directions will be furnished when reservations are made.

Jarvie's 30-year career as a classical guitarist encompasses such highlights as a shared performance with renowned flautist Paul Horn at the Portland Coliseum, performances of the "Concierto de Aranjuez" with the Eugene Symphony and, more recently, collaboration with Ballet Fantastique providing live music for the ballet's original "Danse en Rouge" at Eugene's Hult Center for the Performing Arts, then again at the Oregon Shakespeare Festival's "Green Show" in Ashland.

Jarvie earned his music degree at the University of Oregon. In 1971, he designed and initiated the Guitar Studies program at the University of Oregon's Music School, where he taught for 12 years. He also taught concurrently at Lane Community College in Eugene and continues to teach at LCC.

Jarvie's special gift is the effect he has on his audiences.

He also shares his music on YouTube, where his more than 20 videos of live performances have attracted over 300,000 views from fans around the world.

Van Fans to host card games, luncheon fundraiser

Get together with friends for a fun day of card games and lunch hosted by the Van Fans on Wednesday, Oct. 19. The event will take place at a new location, St. Mary's, Our Lady of the Dunes Catholic Church, two miles south of Florence on Highway 101.

Tickets on sale now for $15 and includes lunch. Reserve a table for the game of your choice. The friends of Florence Van Fans is a non-political organization that sponsors this event twice a year.

All proceeds go to support the Cancer Van, which transports cancer patients every weekday to and from Eugene and Springfield for radiation treatments.

For reservations, call Karen Lee 541-997-9669.

Class Act Theatre to premiere comedy 'Sylvia' Friday

The cat will mew and every dog will have his day at Class Act Theatre (CAT) as Florence's newest theater company opens the second show of its premier season Friday, Sept. 23 with A. R. Gurney's "Sylvia," a hilarious comedy about a marriage put on the skids when a dog wanders into their lives.

David Lauria will direct and star in this both poignant and funny look at middle age and the mid-life crisis years.

Paula Lindekugel-Willis will be assistant director.

"I was drawn to this play by its wit and fast pace" said Lauria. "'Sylvia' holds up a mirror to today's relationships."

Sylvia is the story of what happens when middle-aged Greg finds a dog in the park and brings her home. His wife, Kate, is launching her career as an English teacher specializing in Shakespeare and enjoying their empty nest. Greg, however, is frustrated with his current job as a financial trader.

Then Sylvia, a street smart mix of Labrador and Poodle, becomes Greg's best friend and gives his life new purpose — but she drives a major wedge between Kate and Greg.

Filled with lots of laughs and thoughtful insights, Sylvia is a unique and perceptive look at modern love.

Sylvia will run Sept. 23, 24, 25, 30, and Oct. 1 and 2.

Show times are Fridays and Saturdays at 7 p.m. and Sundays at 2 pm.

Tickets are $18 for general admission, $16 for seniors and Military and can be purchased online at www.catproductions.org.

Class Act Theatre is at 509 Kingwood St. Florence, at the corner of Kingwood and Rhododendron Drive.

For more information, call the theatre at 541-991-3773.
