

Oregon Hatchery Research seeks four new members

ALSEA — Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife (ODFW) is seeking four new board members to represent the Columbia River gillnetters, Oregon Salmon Commission, the agricultural industry and Oregon Indian Tribes respectively on the Oregon Hatchery Research Center (OHRC) Board. The successful candidates will serve four-year terms.

The board is charged with advising the OHRC director on operational, budget and research priorities at the research center.

Additional details about the Board's responsibilities can be found in House Bill 3441, available on the ODFW website at dfw.state.or.us/fish/OHRC/docs/2013/HB_3441.pdf.

The ODFW director will appoint the new members by the end of the year. The application is available on the ODFW website, dfw.state.or.us/fish/OHRC/recruitments.asp.

OHRC is a cooperative research project between ODFW and OSU. The center's mission is to develop an understanding of the mechanisms that may create differences between hatchery and wild fish, and devise ways to reduce and manage the differences so that hatcheries can be used responsibly in the conservation and management of Oregon's native fish.

League with Ashland, Crater, Eagle Point, Klamath Union and Phoenix.

South Umpqua would join the 3A Southern Cascade

League with Henley, Hidden Valley, Illinois Valley, Mazama, North Valley, St. Mary's (Medford) and Cascade.

This redistricting plan would only affect football leagues.

The OSAA's Classification

and Districting Committee will meet again in Wilsonville on Monday to continue discussions of the plan before taking public comment in the afternoon.

Meetings will continue through September 2017, with a final recommendation expected from the OSAA Executive Board in October 2017.

Fishing from 1B

ramp to Sulphur Creek from Sept. 1 to Dec. 31, angling is restricted to single point hook metal lures, fly angling, or salmon bobber angling.

SILETZ RIVER: Steelhead, Chinook

The Siletz River and bay is open for Chinook salmon. Fishing is slow. Fish are throughout the bay and river. Trolling herring in the lower bay is an effective technique. Eggs and bobber or drifting eggs can be productive in the upper bay and river as the season progresses. Consult the regulations for changes in deadline locations through the season.

Steelhead fishing is slow. The majority of the summer steelhead are in the upper Siletz gorge. Casting spinners, drifting bait or using a bobber and jig can be effective. For cutthroat trout, casting small spinners, spoons or fly fishing streamers or dry flies can be very effective.

YAQUINA RIVER: Chinook

The Yaquina River and bay is open for Chinook salmon. Fishing is slow. Fish are throughout the bay and river to the angling deadlines. Trolling herring in the lower bay is an effective technique. Eggs and bobber can be productive in the upper bay and river as the season progresses.

For cutthroat trout casting small spinners, spoons or fly fishing streamers or dry flies can be very effective.

COOS COUNTY LAKES/PONDS: Trout

Rainbow trout were stocked in Upper Empire, Bradley, Saunders, Powers, and Butterfield lakes last week. Due to extremely low water levels, Lower Empire Lake was not stocked. Trout that were destined for Lower Empire Lake were stocked into Upper Empire and Butterfield lakes. Currently fishing for trout has been decent in the deeper lakes like Eel Lake. Anglers are having success slowly trolling wedding rings.

TENMILE BASIN: Trout, bass, yellow perch, coho

Trout angling in the streams of the Tenmile Basin are now closed until May 22, 2017. Trout fishing in Tenmile Lakes is open all year.

There is no wild coho fishery in Tenmile Lakes this fall.

Largemouth bass fishing has been good over the past month. Anglers are catching bass near structure or on the deep end of the weed lines using spinner baits, jigs, or rubber worms.

Fishing for yellow perch has picked up in Tenmile Lakes. Worms fished near the lake bottom work very well for catching yellow perch.

Sailors from 1B

roster, including: senior Dana Halverson and sophomores Erin Michael, Haley Wells and Alyssa West.
