SIUSLAW: 53
BROOKINGS: 70

The Vikings were the first to score in Saturday's basketball game at Glenn Butler Court, with senior Brittany Long snagging a steal for a quick layup.

But Brookings-Harbor answered quickly, draining a 3-pointer that would be the first of nine for the Bruins before the final buzzer.

Siuslaw senior Brittany Long gets triple-teamed by the Lady Bruins on Saturday.

With four minutes left in the quarter, Siuslaw senior Destinie Tatum tied things at 8-8, which would be the closest the Lady Viking would get. Two more 3-pointers in the quarter by the Bruins left Siuslaw trailing by 6 heading into the second quarter, with Brookings extending its lead to 34-22 by the half.

The Lady Viks got solid scoring and rebounding from sophomore Madison Reynolds and junior Marika White in the third quarter, giving Siuslaw more possessions, but the Lady Bruins' ability to hit 3-pointers negated any momentum Siuslaw was able to build.

Although freshman Mia Collins added some spark both offensively and defensively off the bench, the Lady Viks still found themselves down by 20 entering the fourth quarter before falling 53-70.

It was the first win for the Bruins,

It was a tale of two halves during Saturday's matchup between Siuslaw and Brookings-Harbor at Glenn Butler Court, where the Vikings and Bruins battled it out in a dramatic overtime finish.

However, by halftime it appeared the Bruins were heading to a blowout, outscored Siuslaw 19-4 in the second quarter for a 23-10 lead by the break.

"We played very tentative in the first half," said Siuslaw coach Dylan Perry. "When we don't play with confidence and an aggressive attitude, we tend to struggle on offense."

During the break, Perry gave his team the goal of getting a shot opportunity with every possession, and playing more aggressively on defense.

"It wasn't that Brookings' defense was anything we hadn't seen before," said Perry. "We know what we need to do against certain defenses. It just came down to getting focused and executing."

Coming into the second half, the Vikings' more aggressive execution of its 2-3 zone began paying off, holding the Bruins to just 3 points while closing the gap to within 1 point, 25-26, with scoring from juniors Trent Reavis, Kyle King, Jake Hickson and Jared Brandt.

"It was quite a comeback," Perry

On Friday, Mapleton hosted visiting Falls City in a non-league matchup that saw what was arguably one of the best performances of the season from both Sailor teams.

In the girls game, the Lady Sailors held the Mountaineers to just 27 points, finishing the game with just four players and holding Falls City in a tie until the final minute.

"I was proud of the girls because they never quit, even with only four players on the floor," said Mapleton coach Mike Murray, whose team fell, 27-21. "Even though we lost on the scoreboard, it was a moral victory."

Sophomore Haley Wells led with 8 points.

Earlier in the week, the Lady Sailors lost to Lowell and Triangle Lake, but had season-high scoring, including 16 points from Wells against Lowell and 13 points from her against the Lakers.

In that same game, the
