Fraudville from 1A

No word could ever express how grateful we are," Trent said. "You give so graciously." Last year raised $26,784 for the club.

"This year it looks like we will be right around $35,225, plus a $35,000 matching grant from John and Patricia Hardison, which puts the total at $70,225. So we raised almost $9,000 more this year, plus the Hardison's matching donation," Trent said.

It is a new record for the club.

Trent also said the crowd was the largest to date.

"We didn't count the attendees but it was by far the biggest crowd we have ever had. Folks just kept coming and coming and coming. No one left till the end of the event," he said.

According to Trent, the money raised at Fraudville will be put to good use right here in Florence.

"2017 looks to be a wonderful year. We will be doubling the Teen Center floor space within the next couple of months. Last week we had 53 teens at the Teen Center," Trent said. "Every one of the teens that attends at least two times a week is on track to graduate on time. Our goal for on time graduation rate is 100 percent."

Trent said he and the entire Boys and Girls Club wanted to be sure that the community is aware of the positive difference it makes for area young people.

"It is only through people like you that we can turn a goal like this into reality. From the bottom of my heart, thank you!" Trent said.

brought in enough money to bring his account current and call the auction off. His boat will be here for at least another 30 days."

Owen's last annual contract was signed Oct. 1, 2015, and was set to expire Oct. 1, 2016. He is currently being charged a daily rate of $17.

According to Leskin, Owen has not yet provided the port with proof of liability insurance, another moorage requirement of the port.

In a previous article, the Siuslaw News reported that the port offers daily and transient rates. The port offers a daily transient rate for boats not on weekly or contract rates.
