Prepare for Launch

TheSiuslawNews.com will be an entirely new experience on Saturday, April 15. Get your access today.

In April, the Siuslaw News launches its new website. The new site will be much more extensive, useful and powerful than the one it replaces.

Local news and information on the new site will include more photos and videos and be more user friendly. Opportunities for local businesses, organizations and individuals to post their commentary will be available. A powerful search engine explores the site’s current and previous articles and photos. All content on the site will be customized for easy viewing on smartphones and tablets.

Casual readers will be able to access 10 stories a month for free before being prompted to subscribe. The new subscription plan will give both our print readers and our digital users a variety of payment options. If you are a print subscriber to the Siuslaw News, you will have full access to the entire website and the e-edition at no additional cost.

Thank you for being a Siuslaw News reader and a thesiuslawnews.com user. We think you’ll enjoy the upgrade. Call or email us with any questions.
