

City Lights to screen classic film '1984'

Join City Lights Cinemas as it presents the brilliant adaptation of George Orwell's prophetic classic "1984", as part of a nationwide showing of the seminal classic.

Along with the movie, a filmed introduction from the movie's director Michael Radford and a discussion will also be presented.

Performances are on Tuesday, April 4, at 12:30 p.m. and 6:30 p.m.

The film tells the story of Winston Smith, a bureaucrat rewriting history for the Ministry of Truth, a section charged with modifying historical news archives for the totalitarian state of Oceania.

When Smith accidentally discovers evidence that the government is lying, he begins a journey of self discovery that puts the lives of himself and those he loves in danger. Starring the late John Hurt in his greatest onscreen performance and Richard Burton in his last cinema role, "1984" is the film adaptation that fans of the book have been waiting for.

Tickets for "1984" are currently available at City Lights Cinemas or online at www.citylightscinemas.com.

Tickets are $9 for adults, $8 for seniors and students, and $7 for students.

Old Town Coffee features Tru the Painting Dog in April

Tru the Painting Dog will be showing her work at Old Town Coffee in Florence for the month of April.

Tru is an artist, philanthropist, champion trick dog, truffle dog and sometimes a dog just being a dog.

As an artist, Tru's preferred medium is working with acrylics. She enjoys the flow of the paint as it touches the canvas and the flow of treats into her mouth after each stroke of the paint brush.

As a philanthropist, some of Tru's donations have been to Fraudville (a fundraiser event for the boys and girls club), Bark For Life (canine event for the American Cancer Society) and Dancing with Sea Lions Gala Auction event.

Tru has her favorite tricks she performs throughout the day. She also enjoys walking on Bay Street and if a passer-by gives her attention, it is time to perform tricks.

As a truffle dog, Tru loves getting out among the trees and using her nose. When she is on the hunt for the underground treasure she enjoys an occasional squirrel distraction.

Tru donated truffles to the Siuslaw High School's Culinary Arts catering program to be used at the VIP reception at Florence Events Center's Dancing with Sea Lions "Splash Off" last year.

Tru also enjoys just being a dog with long hikes on the sand dunes or wooded trails, playing fetch and sleeping.

Tru's paintings, and the work of other local artists, can be seen every day in April from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. at Old Town Coffee in Florence, 125 Nopal St.

Pregnancy Center to host breakfast fundraiser

The Caring Pregnancy Center of Florence is inviting the community to attend its annual pancake breakfast fundraiser Saturday, April 8, from 8:30 a.m. to 11 a.m., at a new venue, the Florence Senior Center, 1570 Kingwood St.

In addition to breakfast, this year's event will also feature entertainment by local guitarist Denny Weaver and a silent auction, with items up for bid that include a wide array of gift certificates for area restaurants and businesses — and a B&B getaway package in Sisters, Ore.

"We are so grateful for our volunteers and the community's support of the CPC, as this is our only source of funding," said Sally Handley, executive director of the Florence Caring Pregnancy Center. "After hearing about current needs within Florence, we are starting several outreach programs this year, including a new men's curriculum, post-abortion healing groups, life skills for teens and a self-esteem program for young girls."

All auction proceeds and donations received will benefit the Caring Pregnancy Center of Florence.

Located at 1525 12th St., the center is a nonprofit center that provides free counseling, prenatal and parenting education, as well as support for individuals and families facing a planned, unplanned or crisis pregnancy.

For more information about the CPC and its services, call 541-902-2273 or visit www.caringpc.org.

Donations can also be made via PayPal through the website or by mailing them to the Caring Pregnancy Center, P.O. Box 1732, Florence, 97439.
