Nutrition News And Notes

Paint Your Plate Purple (With Produce)

(NAPSA)—Mealtime's about to get a lot more colorful. Registered dietitians and other health professionals recommend eating fruits and vegetables in a wide variety of colors. Why? It's not just to make your plate pop. A colorful diet helps ensure you're getting the broadest possible range of vitamins, minerals and beneficial plant nutrients, like polyphenols. The more colorful your diet, the more nutritious it is. Here's the challenge: Many Americans are confused about the benefits of incorporating colorful produce into their diet. According to a recent survey by Welch's, almost half of consumers (44 percent) don't know or aren't sure that specific colors of fruits and vegetables offer unique health benefits.<sup>1</sup> And, though 63 percent of Americans know that they should eat colorful produce, only 32 percent often make an effort to include it in their diet. Refresh Your Grocery List Think about your favorite fruits and vegetables. What colors are you missing? The next time you're at the grocery store, try to fill in the gaps. Make sure you include purple fruits and vegetables in your cart, too. While 73 percent of Americans know they're an option, only 3 percent of our produce intake is from the purple and blue category.<sup>2</sup> Fortunately, there are easy ways to infuse more purple into your day. For example, Welch's 100% Grape Juice is made with dark purple Concord grapes. You can enjoy a glass or use it in your favorite recipes for a boost of color, flavor and nutrition. What benefits does this surprising purple powerhouse bring? Concord grapes provide polyphenols that give them their signature purple color and help support a healthy heart. In fact, thanks to the Concord grape, 100% grape juice delivers many of the same polyphenols and heart-health benefits as red wine. One way Concord grapes can help support a healthy heart is by promoting healthy circulation to help keep your blood pumping and energy flowing. They may even offer certain benefits for a healthy mind.
