'Love is in the Air' for Unitarians

At the Sunday, April 23, worship service from 10 until 11 a.m. at the Florence Unitarian Universalist Fellowship, Barb Ryan will deliver the message titled: "Love is in the Air."
Ryan wears several hats in her work as an independent contractor. As the Guiddess of Happiness, she is the executive director of Spiraling Toward Joy and teaches classes, facilitates groups, leads workshops and has speaking engagements on love and happiness.

Her newest role is as a published author of the book "Love Loves Fear." If a book could hug, this one would. It is the first in a series of books entitled "Love Loves Everything."
The UU Fellowship, a sanctuary for these challenging times, is located at 87738 Hwy

101 at Heceta Beach Road and is wheelchair accessible. Each service concludes with refreshments and a dialogue circle to explore the questions that come up during each service.
Every Sunday evening at 5:30, Jim Tubesing leads Peaceful Meditations at the Fellowship Hall.

Spirituali-Tea to observe Earth Day

On Monday, April 24 at 6:30 p.m., at 875 Seventh St., everyone is invited to join a group of friends from varied spiritual paths to discuss, with respect to Earth Day, climate change.
Several months ago in a suburb of Paris, a highly significant event focusing on climate change took place. Parties to the U.N. Framework Convention on Climate Change drew to the famed City of Light more than 150 heads of state, some 30,000 representatives of governments, international organizations, civil society and business — and the news media.
In partnership with the Bahá'í International Community and the International Environment Forum (a Bahá'í-inspired organization), a statement was prepared and circulated.

Bahá'í participants also organized or co-sponsored five panel discussions on a wide range of related topics. The discussions presented positive examples of how spiritual qualities such as justice, trustworthiness, accountability and unity can be brought to bear on the problem of climate change.
The gathering will end at 8 p.m. with prayers for the requests left in the Prayer Pole in the garden of the Florence Playhouse and those shared by the group.
